VOL. XII—NO. 3630. NEW-YORK, WEDNESDAY, MAY 13, 1863. PRICE THREE CENTS.

FROM THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

A Congratulatory Order from Gen. Hooker.

WHAT THE ARMY HAS ACCOMPLISHED.

Five Thousand Prisoners, Fifteen Colors, and Seven Cannon Captured.

Eighteen Thousand Rebels Killed, Wounded and Prisoners.

Gen. Lee Asking for Supplies for the Wounded.

The Rebel Army Still Occupying the Fredericksburg Heights.

GEN. HOOKER'S CONGRATULATORY ORDER.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, May 11, 1863.

The following order has been issued by Major-Gen. HOOKER:

HEADQUARTERS OF THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, May 6, 1863.

GENERAL ORDERS No. 49.—The Major-General Commanding tenders to this army his congratulations on its achievments of the last seven days.

If it has not accompliseed all that was expected, the reasons are well known to the army.

It is sufficient to say they were of a character not to be foreseen or prevented by human segacity or resources.

In withdrawing from the south bank of the Rappahannock before delivering a general battle to our adversaries, the army has given renewed evidence of its confidence in itself, and its fidelity to the principles it represents. In fighting at a disadvantage, we would have been recreant to our trust, to ourselves, our cause and our country. Profoundly loyal and conscious of its strength, the Army of the Potomac will give or decline battle whenever its interest or honor may demand.

It will also be the guardian of its own history and its own arm.

By our celerity and secresy of movement, our advance and passage of the rivers was undisputed, and on our withdrawal, not a rebel ventured to follow.

The events of the last week may swell with pride the hearts of every officer and soldier of this army. We have added new laurels to its former renown. We have made long marches, crossed rivers, surprised the enemy in his intrenchments, and wherever we have fought we have inflicted heavier blows than we have received. We have taken from the enemy five thousand prisoners and fifteen colors, captured and brought off seven pieces of artillery, and placed hors du combat eighteen thousand of his chosen troops. We have destroyed his depots filled with vast amounts of stores, damaged his communications, captured prisoners within the fortifications of his capital, and filled his country with fear and consternation.

We have no other regret than that caused by the loss of our brave companions, and in this we are consoled by the conviction that they have fallen in the holiest cause ever submitted to the arbitrament of battle. By command of

Maj.-Gen. HOOKER.

S. WILLIAMS, Assistant Adjutant-General.

LATEST DISPATCHES FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, May 12.

The facts connected with the flag of truce sent over by Gen. LEE, on Wednesday, are, as stated by himself, that he had exhausted his medicines, surgical appliances and hospital stores for the wounded, and asking for fresh supplies. These were sent over by the way of United States Ford.

The truth of the report is now satisfactorily ascertained, that some of our wounded, who were lying in the woods around Chancellorsville, were burned to death. The woods were fired by our own and the enemy's shells, and the flames spread rapidly until the rains fell.

Brig.-Gen. HAYES, of the Reserve Artillery, who was wounded in both legs, was captured by the enemy.

There was a prevailing impression at Falmouth on Friday, that the enemy had withdrawn from our front at the time our forces left their intrenchments in the rear of Chancellorsville. One of our corps commanders had occasion on Friday to send a message under a flag of truce to the rebel commander, but after a fruitless effort he reported that, although he fell in with scattering bodies of rebels—pickets and skirmishers—no one could tell him who was in command, or where there were any officers.

There is no doubt that Gen. STONEMAN has arrived safely on this side of the Rappahannock.

It will be recollected that Major DE LANCY FLOYD JONES, of the Eleventh regular infantry, was arraigned before a Court-martial several months ago, on the charge of misbehavior in the face of the enemy, which allegation was not substantiated. It will be gratifying to his numerous friends to learn that in the recent fight of the Army of the Potomac, at Fredericksburgh, while the conduct of the Second brigade of regulars was such as to elicit the praise of all their companions in arms, the commander of the brigade thus spoke of Major JONES: "When all did so well, it is difficult to discriminate, but I desire to mention by name the regimental commander, Major DE LANCY FLOYD JONES, Eleventh United States infantry, for the great coolness with which he commanded his regiment.,

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, May 12.

Gentlemen have recently arrived here, and proceeded to the Rappahannock to recover the bodies of their friends, who fell in the recent battles. One of them, in a private note received in Washington today, says a communication has been transmitted to Gen. LEE for permission to pass inside of his lines for that purpose. Although, on Sunday night no response had been received from LEE, it was understood from the officers receiving the communication at the river that there would be no unnecessary obstacles in their way. Subsequently the enemy commenced sending over the river, under a flag of truce, considerable numbers of our wounded who have been paroled. For several days past supplies and medicines have been sent over from our side.

A report was current yesterday that the enemy had left their formidable position along the heights, but a close observation last evening disclosed the fact that their numbers there had not been diminished. They were still at that point yesterday morning. At the time of our recrossing the river at United States Ford, it is believed that only two divisions of the enemy's forces remained on our front, near Chancellorsville, as a rear guard. The divisions mentioned were commanded by Gens. ANDERSON and MCLAWS.

Dr. WEBSTER still remains in the enemy's lines in care of the wounded. Dr. LUKELEY, who was captured at Chancellorsville, sends back word that our wounded generally were doing well.

Notwithstanding the reports that our troops have again crossed the Rappahannock, it was not the case up to Monday noon.

OUR WOUNDED IN THE FIELD.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, Tuesday, May 12.

Dr. SUCKLEY, Medical Director in charge of our wounded in the field, reports that they are all comfortable. They number about 1,200. An ambulance train has been sent for them, and they are expected to return to camp by to-night.

NEWS FROM THE RICHMOND PAPERS.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, Monday, May 11.

Richmond papers of Saturday contain the following items. There is little in their editorials except favorable comments upon their most extravagant exaggerations of our losses, and the advantages gained thereby to the Confederate army.

The Examiner quotes a rebel surgeon's report of their losses as amounting to 900 killed, 7,000 wounded and 1,200 prisoners.

The country people around Richmond have discontinued market visits, in consequence of the belief that their horses will be impressed for military purposes.

The British Consul at Richmond declines to issue any more passes.

Of the Union prisoners in the Libby Prison, the Examiner says, the higher officers are reserved, and all take their condition philosophically, looking forward to an exchange in a few days.

A large amount of blockade goods were sold at auction in Richmond on Thursday. The sale included $30,000 worth of ladies' boots and shoes for Summer wear. The sale realized $100,000 in the aggregate.

A new Confederate States flag has been adopted. It was raised in Richmond on Monday.

The Examiner prophesies that the Union army has crossed the Rappahannock for the last time.

At a public sale in Augusta, Ga., prices for negroes ranged from $700 to $2,600.

It is officially announced that Gen. VAN DORN died at Spring Hill, Tenn., on the 7th of May.

AFFAIRS IN THE SOUTHWEST.

JACKSON, Miss., Thursday, May 7.

It is reported that BANKS' army has been divided into three colums, one fortifying the town of Opelousas, one remaining at Atchafalaya, and one at Baton Rouge.

BANKS has seized all the negroes on the Governor's plantation.

KIRBY SMITH has arrived at Alexandria, from Arkansas, with WALKER'S Texas brigade as reinforcements. SMITH is confident that he can drive BANKS back to Berwick.

Three powerful Confederate gunboats are at Alexandria, above the Falls.

The wheat crop in Texas is unprecedently promising.

MAGRUDER'S headquarters have been removed to San Antonio.

Five gunboats passed Natchez on Sunday night. Four ascended Red River.

OUR SPECIAL ARMY CORRESPONDENCE.

A Review of the Important Operations Under Gen. Sedgwick.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, Saturday Morning, May 9, 1863.

Owing to the rapid succession of engagements and the confusion consequent upon the enemy getting in our rear, I was unable, in my report of the storming of the Fredericksburgh Heights, to do more than describe the operations of the first division which reached the heights, contenting myself with a passing notice of the other two—HOWE'S and NEWTON'S. I observe that this has been the case with the other accounts. Justice to the brave men composing these divisions demands that their achievements have more than a passing notice.

Gen. HOWE'S division crossed the river at sunset, near the Bernard House, and advanced up toward Fredericksburgh as far as the ravine, the Thirty-third New-York, Col. TAYLOR, being deployed as skirmishers, their right resting in the suburbs of the city. About 3 o'clock in the morning, Gen. NEWTON'S division and the Flying division passed to the right, and at daylight HOWE'S also moved to the right, connecting with these forces. The position of the various divisions at that time are as follows: Gen. BROOKS on extreme left, Gen. HOWE centre, and Gen. NEWTON and the Flying division at the right. The various regiments of Gen. HOWE'S were arranged in line of battle, fronting Mary's Heights, the right resting opposite Cemetery Heights. They remained here until the order for a charge was given, when they dashed forward, those in Gen. NEILL'S brigade taking the advance. The Forty-ninth New-York, Col. BIDWELL, and Seventy-seventh New-York, Lieut.-Col. FRENCH, supported by the Twentieth New-York, Col. VEGESACK, deployed to the front and left as skirmishers. The Thirty-third New-York, Col. TAYLOR, constituted the right of the charging column, Seventh Maine, Lieut.-Col. CONNOR, centre, and the Twenty-first New-Jersey, Col. VAN HOUGHTEN, left. Steadily the men pressed forward, under a heavy shower of grape and canister, dashed over the Cemetery Heights, then down the ravine at the left, through underbrush and obstructions of every description, and up the steep sides of Mary's Heights to the very mouths of the rebel cannon, which were belching forth their iron hail. The Thirty-third was the first to reach the ramparts, the Colonel, Lieutenant-Colonel and Major gallantly leading their men forward on horseback. A rebel cannonier was driving home the last shell. Lieut.-Col. CORNING rode up on a splendid black charger, and waving his sword over the "rammer's" head, ordered him to desist. The order was complied with. The artillerists who stood by their guns were all captured or killed. Alarmed at the bravery of our men, the infantry supports fell back, forming a line of battle. A squad of them who lagged behind were ordered to surrender. They refused to do so, when a ball from the musket of Sergt. PROUDFOOT brought one of them to the ground. Again they were ordered to surrender, and again refused to do so. Sergt. KANE killed a second. The third was likewise shot down. Capt. DRAIME, with a squad of his company, captured 40 rebels, including Col. LUCE, of the Eighteenth Mississippi, one Captain and four Lieutenants. Having formed a line of battle, the rebels returned a heavy fire on the Thirty-third, likewise drawn up in battle. The Seventh Maine afterward came up to its support, being received with loud cheers, and formed on the left. The Twenty-first New-Jersey not long after followed, and the rebels were put to flight. One heavy brass gun was captured here by the Thirty-third, and two by the skirmishers further to the left.

GEN. NEWTON'S DIVISION.

At a consultation of the Generals very early in the morning, (Sunday,) the plan adopted was for Gen. DEVENS' brigade, the First, (consisting of the Second Rhode Island, Seventh, Tenth, Thirty-seventh Massachusetts, and Thirty-sixth New-York,) now commanded by Col. BROWN, to storm the works on the right, supported by Gen. WHEATON'S, Col. SHALER'S and a portion of GIBBONS' Second division, Second army corps. The plan was afterward so changed as to give the Flying division the lead, together with the Seventh Massachusetts and Thirty-sixth New-York. The Second Rhode Island was posted on the right of the road to support a Rhode Island battery, while the Tenth Massachusetts was moved still further to the right, connecting on with Gen. GIBBONS' troops, stretching along the river above the city.

The Second brigade, Gen. WHEATON, consisting of the Ninety-third Pennsylvania, Ninety-eighth Pennsylvania, One Hundred and Second Pennsylvania, One Hundred and Thirty-ninth Pennsylvania and Sixty-second New-York, and the Third brigade, consisting of the Twenty-third Pennsylvania, Eighty-second Pennsylvania, One Hundred and Twenty-second Pennsylvania and Sixty-first New-York, though somewhat divided up, supported as a body, the Flying division and above-named regiments on the left. The signal being given, the Seventh Maine and Thirty-sixth New-York moved forward simultaneously with the Flying division, up the Gordonsville road, and deploying along the stone wall, charged the batteries to the right, capturing two guns, the Thirty-sixth New-York reaching them first. When portions of the charging columns wavered for a moment they were quickly supported by the forces close in their rear. In my next I will speak of the achievements of Gen. HOWE'S division.

Your correspondents on the right have, doubtless, furnished full details of operations in that wing of the army. As the facts of the case become manifest, the responsibility for the reverse appears to rest not upon Gen. HOOKER, but upon some of his subordinate officers, through whose criminal mismanagement the enemy (JACKSON'S corps) were enabled to get in our rear. Gen. BIRNEY is severely censured. He, I am informed, moved his division full three miles beyond the line of battle, inferring, from the rapid moving away of a wagon train in the distance, that the enemy were retreating, thereby leaving a gap through which Stonewall JACKSON passed with his command, under the protection of a heavily wooded ravine; and, getting in the rear of the Eleventh corps, completely surprised it. Not having been present, I cannot vouch for the truth of this statement, yet it comes to me in such a shape, and supported by such a weight of testimony, that I should do wrong, as a chronicler of the movements, to pass it by.

I cannot learn of our having lost a single gun during the series of engagements on the left. The rebels were, again and again, hurled against our batteries with all the impetuosity and recklessness which have characterized them in past conflicts, but as often retiring with dreadful slaughter and carnage. The superiority of our artillery to that of the rebels has again been satisfactorily demonstrated.

Some of their guns fired with considerable accuracy, especially the Whitworth planted at the commencement of the seven days' fight, on the extreme left; but, as a general thing, their batteries were soon silenced or forced to retire when replied to by ours.

Fredericksburgh presented a most desolate appearance. Nothing has been done to repair the serious injuries inflicted upon the place during the engagement of last December. Nearly every prominent building is more or less pock-marked with shot, shell and Minie balls. The tall, costly spire of the Episcopal Church is perforated by seventeen shot-holes. Ruins of once elegant residences are seen on every hand. The Bernard House, a little below the city, used by our forces for a hospital during the battle of December, has since been burned accidentally. The owner of this estate was a wealthy Secessionist bachelor. Not long after Gen. FRANKLIN'S force had crossed, he was detected endeavoring to steal into our lines, and believing that he had been conveying information to the enemy, Gen. FRANKLIN ordered him into durance vile, where he has remained ever since. His lordly mansion, built after the English style of architecture, was furnished with everything which wealth could furnish. Damask curtains, Brussels carpets, marble centre tables, elegant mirrors and chandeliers adorned the various apartments. There were rare paintings from the Italian masters suspended on the walls, and numerous libraries found in different parts of the buildings. This home and all these adornments are now gone, and their owner a prisoner in our hands. But this arch rebel will learn, should his eye fall on this communication, of yet another misfortune. While a party of the Forty-third New-York, Col. BAKER, stationed on picket, last Friday afternoon, near by, were delving among the ruins, they discovered, buried beneath them, in a chest, $100,000 of Confederate money, placed there, doubtless, by the owner, for safe keeping. There has been no lack of Confederate currency in that regiment since.

The earthworks on the heights above the city are so formidable that it seems almost impossible that our brave boys could have stormed them. It was a proud achievement for the National arms—planting the Stars and Stripes on those frowning battlements. Behind the memorable stone wall, directly beneath, were the dead bodies of hundreds of rebels, all shot through the head. From one end to the other of the wall, the ground was scattered with garments, guns, knapsacks and belts, which the rebels had cast aside in their flight. Most of our own soldiers who fell in the charge were buried on the plain, between the wall and the city. Passing by the heights, to the country beyond, the fields were green with cereals of every description, presenting a most beautiful appearance.

LATE REBEL REPORTS.

Congratulatory Address from General Lee to his Army.

Desperate and Bloody Fighting Acknowledged.

GEN. LEE'S ADDRESS TO HIS ARMY.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY NORTHERN VIRGINIA, May 7, 1863.

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 59.—With heartfelt gratification, the General commanding expresses to the army his sense of the heroic conduct displayed by officers and men, during the arduous operations in which they have just been engaged.

Under trying vicissitudes of heat and storm, you attacked the enemy, strongly intrenched in the depths of a tangled wilderness, and again on the hills of Fredericksburgh, fifteen miles distant, and by the valor that has triumphed on so many fields, forced him once more to seek safety beyond the Rappahannock. While this glorious victory entitles you to the praise and gratitude of the nation, we are especially called upon to return our grateful thanks to the only Giver of victory, for the signal deliverance He has wrought.

It is, therefore, earnestly recommended that the troops unite on Sunday next, in ascribing to the Lord of Hosts the glory due His name.

Let us not forget in our rejoicing the brave soldiers who have fallen in defence of their country; and, while we mourn their loss, let us resolve to emulate their noble example.

The army and the country alike lament the absence for a time of one to whose bravery, energy and skill they are so much indebted for success.

The following letter from the President of the Confederate States is communicated to the army as an expression of his appreciation of its success:

"I have received your dispatch, and reverently unite with you in giving praise to God for the success with which he has crowned our arms.

In the name of the people, I offer my cordial thanks to yourself and the troops under your command for this addition to the unprecedented series of great victories which your army has achieved.

The universal rejoicing produced by this happy result will be mingled with a general regret for the good and the brave who are numbered among the killed and wounded. R. E. LEE, General.

THE BATTLE OF CHANCELLORSVILLE.

From the Richmond Examiner, May 7.

On Thursday, HOOKER'S right wing had reached a point near Spottsylvania Court-house, his left resting on the Rapidan at Ely's Ford, and his centre on Chancellorsville, ten miles southwest of Fredericksburgh. The hostile lines were at this time in close proximity, and skirmishing was frequent. On Friday evening, about 6 o'clock, Gen. JACKSON attacked the enemy's right flank, and the first general battle ensued. Gen. RHODES, commanding Gen. D. H. HILL'S old division, being on our extreme left, began the fight. The enemy had, during Thursday night, thrown up formidable breastworks to resist an attack from the direction of Fredericksburgh, but our forces advancing from a nearly opposite point, they were, of course, worthless. The enemy finding himself outflanked, deserted his works without resistance and fled toward Chancellorsville. Night coming on, the pursuit was discontinued.

During Saturday JACKSON continued to press the enemy's right, whilst Gen. LEE assailed him in front. On Sunday morning, shortly after midnight, the hostile armies occupying lines parallel with the plank road leading from Fredericksburgh to Orange Court-house, the enemy advanced and delivered battle. At this critical juncture Gen. JACKSON received his wound.

After one of the most desperate and bloody fights which lasted from 10 o'clock on Sunday morning HOOKER was beaten at all points, and fell back towards Rapidan at its confluence with the Rappahannock, some 16 miles above Fredericksburgh. This was the battle of Chancellorsville.

While it was raging, SEDGWICK, with an overwhelming force, advanced from the Rappahannock, below Fredericksburgh, upon Gen. EARLY, who, with one division, held the heights of Fredericksburgh. After a short, but desperate resistance, EARLY was compelled to retire toward Chancellorsville, and SEDGWICK took possession of the long coveted heights. In this fight the enemy captured a number of prisoners, and five guns of the Washington artillery battalion. It is said that two entire companies of the Washington artillery were taken. When a reverse overtakes us a scapegoat is never wanting.

In this case, it is said, we could have held our position, but for the pusillanimous conduct of some infantry regiments. We, however, believe our defeat at this point to have been solely due to the odds brought against us. The enemy's triumph was destined to be short-lived. Gen. MCLAWS being sent to Gen. EARLY'S assistance, in less than two hours dislodged SEDGWICK, and drove him into the valley of the Rappahannock, recapturing (it is believed) the guns before lost. Whether SEDGWICK retreated to the town or some other point below, we have not been able to learn.

But in either event, Gen. LEE having pushed HOOKER sufficiently to keep him quiet for the balance of the day, turned his troops toward Fredericksburgh, determined to drive SEDGWICK beyond the river, and get rid of him. This he did; but, as we learn, after the dearest bought victory of the day. If our loss in the battle be as great as reported, our columns must have been subjected to the fire of the enemy's artillery planted on the Stafford Hills. In the series of battles our army captured some thirty cannon, and some 10,000 prisoners, 8,000 of which are said to have arrived at Guiness' Station.

Among the casualties are the following: A. P. Hill, struck by a fragment of a shell in the calf of his leg. Among the killed were: Gen. PAXTON, of the Stonewall brigade; Col. Walker, (Warren?) of the Tenth Virginia; Major Miles Selden, Aid to Gen. Heath; Capt. Greenlee Davidson, Letcher battery; Capt. E. Branch, of Richmond Grays, and Capt. Banks. Major Chdnning Price, of Gen. Stuart's Staff, was killed on Thursday, near Spotsylvania Court House.

THE LATEST.

Official information from Fredericksburgh was yesterday received to the following effect: HOOKER left two corps d'armée, under SEDGWICK, on the Rappahannock, below Fredericksburgh. With the main body of his his forces he crossed the Rappahannock and Rapidan. SEDGWICK'S instructions were to cross the river and attack Gen. LEE'S rear as soon as HOOKER should engage them in front. SEDGWICK, for some reason unknown, delayed his crossing beyond the appointed time, and did not get over until HOOKER was beaten, but yet in time to prevent Gen. LEE from pushing his victory. HOOKER is at United States Ford, fourteen miles below the confluence of the Rappahannock and Rapidan, holding a strong position and strongly intrenched, receiving heavy reinforcements."

THE BATTLE AT WILDERNESS CHURCH.

We have received a copy of the Richmond Dispatch extra of the 6th, which says the fight on Sunday at Wilderness Church was one of the bloodiest of the war. It claims that the Confederates had taken at that date 5,000 prisoners, including Brig.-Gen. HAYS of Couch's corps, and his Aid-de-Camp, Capt. ECHOLS. It also claims that they captured five batteries of field artillery.

Among the rebel officers killed besides Gen. PAXTON, were Col. WALKER, of the Tenth Virginia. The Dispatch says: "The country will lament the misfortune which has befallen our army in the severe wounding of Lieut.-Gen. JACKSON, who lost his left arm."

As showing the severity of the contest, the Dispatch says that the Forty-fourth Virginia regiment went into the late fight at Chancellorsville 175 strong, and lost all but 61.

THE WOUNDS OF STONEWALL JACKSON.

The following is from the Richmond Enquirer of the 7th instant:

"Our victory on the Rappahannock has cost us dear in the severe wounds unfortunately received by the great and good Gen. JACKSON. His left arm has been amputated above the elbow, a bullet has passed through his right hand. His condition is now, we learn, as favorable as could possibly be expected, and he will doubtless recover, and is not, we trust, lost to active service. We could better spare a brigade or a division.

Our base foe will exult in the disaster to JACKSON; yet the accursed bullet that brought him down was never moulded by a Yankee. Through a cruel mistake, in the confusion the hero received two balls from some of his own men, who would all have died for him."

LATEST FROM THE ARMY.

DEATH OF STONEWALL JACKSON

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, Tuesday, May 12.

The Richmond papers of yesterday announce the death of Stonewall JACKSON, on Sunday afternoon, from the effects of his recent amputation and pneumonia. His burial was fixed for to-day. The military band in Fredericksburgh had been performing dirges a greater portion of the afternoon.

A large train of ambulances proceeded to-day toward United States Ford, for the remainder of our wounded within the enemy's lines.

Gov. CURTIN, of Pennsylvania, has been in camp two days, looking after the welfare and wants of the Pennsylvania troops.

THE EXPEDITION UP THE NILE.

Probable Discovery of the Sources of the River.

WASHINGTON, Monday, May 12.

Mr. WM. GOODHUE, the Vice-Consul of the United States at Zanzibar, reports that Messrs. SPEKE and GRANT'S expedition in search of the sources of the Nile, have been almost, if not entirely crowned with success.

The two mentioned English gentlemen left Zanzibar September 25, 1860, on the expedition, and were last heard from, in March, 1862, when Capt. SPEKE had discovered the Miverango River, which he writes to Her Britannic Majesty to be the first certain branch of the Nile. It is 400 yards wide, with a gentle flow to the North. It takes its rise in 0° 12' north lat., in the Victoria Majanza—a lake discovered by Capt. SPEKE.

The expedition could not move forward (March, 1862) through the kingdom of Uganda, (through which said river flows,) owing to the unwillingness of the natives.

Capt. GRANT was heard from April 11, 1862, and was then behind Capt. SPEKE, making explorations and scientific observations, which is about 1° 30' south lat.

Departure of Massachusetts Troops.

Proceedings in Parliament.

THE SEIZURE OF BRITISH VESSELS—IMPORTANT SPEECH BY EARL RUSSELL.

In the House of Lords, on April 27, the subject of the seizure of British vessels with mail-bags, came up, according to notice, when the following debate transpired:

Earl RUSSELL—My lords, you will expect me, no doubt, to answer the questions which were put to me on Friday night. What I have to say will, I think, convince your lordships that it is not desirable that at this time I should state the opinion which I have received from the law officers of the Crown. On referring to the papers already presented to Parliament your lordships will see that a good deal of correspondence passed subsequently to the 8th of August. The letter written on the 8th of August has been published; but I wrote afterwards to Mr. STUART, and on the 10th of October I made a further communication to the same gentleman. It is not necessary to trouble your lordships with the whole of the last mentioned dispatch. Part of it has already been presented to Parliament; but the dispatch, after the passages published in the printed papers, goes on to say:

"Her Majesty's Government are glad to find from your dispatch of the 12th of August last that the orders originally given to American cruisers in regard to interference with neutral vessels have been rescinded. If these orders had been sanctioned and continued in force by the Government of the United States, they would have called for prompt and firm remonstrance on the part of Her Majesty's Government, and it will be proper that you should intimate to Mr. SEWARD, while expressing the satisfaction of Her Majesty's Government at their revocation, that Her Majesty's Government are glad to be thereby spared from the necessity of stating their decided objections to their tenor. You will say that to order vessels, though apparently and prima facie carrying on a lawful trade, to be systematically seized on the high seas, without any preliminary search, or without the discovery during such search of any strong evidence of suspicion against such vessels, would be to subject the mercantile marine of neutrals to a system of oppression and annoyance which no neutral Government could be expected to tolerate. The unjust seizure under urgent circumstances of a neutral vessel may be considered as one of the occasional burdens which a state of war may impose upon a neutral, and it may be partially compensated by the condemnation of the captor in costs or in costs and damages; but the indiscriminate and general seizure of merchant vessels, without previous search, converts an occasional exception into an intolerable rule. The question which has arisen in this case, as to the seizure of Her Majesty's mails on board the Adela, while it forms a new and very important element in this case, deserving very grave consideration, raises a point of some delicacy and difficulty. Her Majesty's Government cannot doubt that the Government of the United States are prepared to concede that all mail-bags, clearly certified to be such, shall be exempt from seizure or visitation, and that some arrangement shall be made for immediately forwarding such bags to their destination in the event of the ships which carry them being detained. If this is done, the necessity for discussing the claim, as a matter of strict right, that Her Majesty's mails on board a private vessel should be exempted from visitation or detention, might be avoided; and it is therefore desirable that you should ascertain from Mr. SEWARD whether the Government of the United States admits the principle that Her Majesty's mail-bags shall neither be searched nor detained."

On receipt of this dispatch, Mr. STUART read it to Mr. SEWARD, who was ready to admit the principle therein laid down with regard to naval rights. That there might be no misunderstanding on the subject, it was agreed that special instructions should be issued. Accordingly, on the 31st of October, the following letter was addressed to Mr. WELLES:

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, WASHINGTON, Oct. 31, 1862.

SIR: It is thought expedient that instructions be given to the blockading and naval officers that, in case of capture of merchant vessels suspected or found to be vessels of the insurgents or contraband, the public mails of any friendly or neutral Power, duly certified and authenticated as such, shall not be searched or opened, but be put, as speedily as may be convenient, on their way to their designated destinations. This instruction, however, will not be deemed to protect simulated mail-bags, verified by forged certificates or counterfeited seals. I have, &c.,

WILLIAM H. SEWARD.

Those were the instructions given to American naval officers, and no question arose with respect to them, until the other day. I have just received the account of the preliminary proceedings in connection with the transaction. On the 4th of April, Mr. ARCHIBALD, Her Majesty's Consul at New-York, was summoned to attend the Prize Commission in regard to the Peterhoff, which had been captured, as the House is aware, by the United States. On arriving at the office, Mr. ARCHIBALD was shown the mail-bag taken from the vessel, which was under the seal of Her Majesty's Postmaster-General. Mr. ARCHIBALD protested against that seal being broken and the bag examined, and requested that it should be sent forward to its destination. The United States officers, however, insisted that the bag should be opened, and that was accordingly done. The bag was found to contain several packages addressed to Matamoras. Nothing more took place on this occasion, and Mr. ARCHIBALD reported the matter to Lord LYONS. Lord LYONS immediately applied to Mr. SEWARD, and stated that the proceedings in question was in violation of the letter of the 31st of October, upon which he relied for the security of mails of this description certified by Her Majesty's Postmaster-General. Mr. SEWARD said the subject would require consideration. Subsequently Mr. ARCHIBALD was again desired to attend the Prize Court, and was there informed by the counsel for the United States that it had been resolved to open the packages found in the mail-bag. In the first instance Mr. ARCHIBALD was invited to perform this task, in order to ascertain what were bona fide letters, which should be forwarded to their destination, and what were papers referring to the cargo, which should be handed over to the Prize Court. Mr. ARCHIBALD, however, declined to be a party to such a course. If the Court chose to order the packages to be opened, he said he would be present as a witness of the transaction, but could not approve or give any sanction to it. Upon this declaration the proceedings seem to have been suspended, and the opening of the packages was deferred. Mr. ARCHIBALD at once reported to Lord LYONS what had been done. Lord LYONS went to Mr. SEWARD, and pointed out that, in accordance with the order of the 31st of October, the letters ought to be replaced in the mail-bag and forwarded to their destination. According to the latest intelligence which I have received, a telegram had been sent to the Prize Court, directing that the packages were not to be opened until further orders, but the Government of the United States had not come to any definite determination on the subject. These are the facts of the case as they at present stand. The opinion of the law officers of the Crown must, of course, be very carefully weighed by Her Majesty's Government before any steps are taken. Instructions will be sent out, probably by the next mail, but in the meantime fresh information may arrive which may quite alter the complexion of the affair. Under these circumstances, I have to press for the indulgence of your lordships in forbearing, for the present, to state the opinion of the law officers of the Crown. (Hear, hear.)

The Marquis of CLANRICARDE said no one could approve more than he did the discretion which the Government had exercised in postponing for the present the publication of the opinion of the law officers. He was also glad that the noble Earl had called attention to the agreement of the 31st of October, as to the security of the mails. On the 11th of the present month the owners of the Sea Queen, in addressing an inquiry to the Government as to the amount of protection which would be afforded to the mails, referred to the dictum of an American Judge, to the effect that mail letters found on board a British ship could legally be opened in order to ascertain the character of the ship. Now, seeing that by the letter of October last, that contention was waived on the part of the United States Government, it would have been courteous in the noble earl, or in the noble lord, the Postmaster-General, to have stated the understanding now in force. He wished to know what steps had been taken by Her Majesty's Government to obtain correct reports of the proceedings of the American Prize Courts. It was clearly of great importance that they should know whether there was any conflict of law between the Prize Courts and the United States Government. He understood that a number of ships had been seized, some of them as far back as fifteen months ago, and had been taken into port, but had not yet been brought before the Prize Court. The reason of that delay was believed by the owners to be the want of evidence against the vessels, but from whatever cause it occurred, it was most unjustifiable. [Hear, hear.]

Earl RUSSELL was not sure that complete reports of all the proceedings of the Prize Courts could be obtained, but he would take care to remind the British Minister in the United States of the importance of transmitting them whenever possible.

The Fight at Charleston.

In the House of Commons, on April 28, a long debate took place regarding the condition of the British navy. In the course of it Sir J. ELPHINSTONE said:

"But, with regard to the iron fleet of America, events which had taken place had thrown a strong light upon the subject. In the construction of iron ships the American naval administration had been most completely untrammeled, and it was an extraordinary thing that, with the skill in shipbuilding which the Americans undoubtedly possessed, they had not yet succeeded in constructing one serviceable iron-clad ship. The most reliable information as to the American iron fleet to which he had access was the French Revue Maritime et Coloniale, in which the American ships were minutely described. It appeared that there were eight or ten different classes, that the vessels varied in size from 4,000 tons down to 700, that they were of every variety of speed, and that they had every variety of coating. Yet in the attack on Charleston the nine iron-clads were entirely defeated, one being sunk, and the others got off with great difficulty. On a former occasion a ship which more resembled the Warrior—the Indianola—having lost way, was attacked by two small gunboats and was obliged to be run ashore. The iron fleet of England was entirely desitute of ships of the description which subdued the Indianola. We had no vessels laid down to carry a single heavy gun and go at a good rate of speed, so that in the event of a ship like the Warrior being brought to a stand-still by an attacking ship, they could fire at those points of infirmity, such as the screw gearing, stern-post, or part below the water line, which would undoubtedly bring the enemy's ship into such a position that her crew must abandon her. It was a pity the paper which contained reflections on the building of iron ships in private yards had ever been written, and a still greater pity that it had ever been published."

Mr. W. P. LINDSAY, in the course of his speech, remarked:

"He could not think a great deal had been learnt from recent events at Charleston, because the ships were vastly inferior in strength to our armor-plated ships. Still the resistance of these inferior ships to heavy shot, showed the advantage of armor-plating. One ship received 90 shots, and yet came out of action."

Spirit of the London Press.

The failure of the Federal attack on the Charleston forts was the theme of general comment; but there is a wide difference in the deductions drawn from the event. The London Times says that the effort against Charleston, which was to retrieve and avenge all previous disasters, has ended in a catastrophe more signal than any reverse the North has yet sustained. Continual failures are not mere accidents. The object of the North is impossible. Those who appeal to arms should surely be prepared to accept the decision of the field. Even if the conquest of the South were to be achieved, it would only destroy the North by turning it into a Russia of the New World, compelled to be the despotic oppressor of a Poland of the West.

The Times, in another editorial, remarks, on the importance of the affair at Charleston as a victory of forts over ships, of land batteries over iron-clads, of the defence over the attack, and that the moral to be now drawn is, that forts or stationary batteries may be expected to perform better service against ships or movable batteries than was imagined when a resolution was taken last year to suspend the construction of forts at Spithead.

In its City Article, the Times says:

"Great satisfaction was expressed in the city at the fact of the strong tone adopted by Parliament having drawn forth a promise of vigor from the Cabinet, previously to the arrival of the news of the total repulse of the Federal fleet before Charleston. If the notification that the British Government will no longer tolerate the proceedings of Admiral WILKES had been delayed until after this event, the determination would have been attributed to a desire to take advantage of a crushing disaster."

The Daily News says it is puerile to describe the repulse at Charleston as a catastrophe. The disappointment will be sorely felt for a few days, but it is doubtful whether many sensible Americans ever expected to see Charleston taken by a fleet.

The Morning Herald says if, as it confidently expects, the success at Charleston should prove the prelude of a bloodier conflict and greater victory in Tennessee, the Southern Confederacy will have established its claim of independence by arguments which few European Governments will be willing or able to contest.

The Morning Post looks upon the affair as demonstrating the impregnability of the Charleston defences.

Recruiting for the National Army in Ireland.

CORRESPONDENCE BETWEEN EARL RUSSELL AND MR. ADAMS.

From the London News, April 28.

An important correspondence between Earl RUSSELL and Mr. ADAMS on this subject was published yesterday. The first letter, dated Nov. 20, 1862, is from Earl RUSSELL, and informs Mr. ADAMS "that her Majesty's Government are informed, by persons to whom they are disposed to give credit, that recruits are being raised in this country for serving in the army of the United States, and that bounty money of a considerable amount is offered by agents of the United States to encourage British subjects to enlist," and that the practice to which his attention is thus called is calculated seriously to increase the difficulties already incident to the observance of neutrality by her Majesty's Government.

On the following day Mr. ADAMS replies, stating that he "not only has no knowledge of any such proceedings, but he has no belief that they can have been attempted by any persons really vested with authority as agents of the United States. Should it turn out that these are individuals assuming to act under such an authority, he will be obliged to Earl RUSSELL for such information as he may possess that may enable him to ascertain who these persons may be, and to take the necessary measures to disavow their operations."

On the 16th of December Earl RUSSELL writes to Mr. ADAMS, stating that he has the satisfaction of informing him that "further inquiries which have been instituted respecting the alleged recruiting in London for the United States Army seem to establish that the reports to that effect which had reached Her Majesty's Government were without foundation."

On the 16th of April Earl RUSSELL writes to Mr. ADAMS:

SIR: With reference to your letter of the 10th inst., in which you repeated the denial you had formerly made of the truth of the report that men were being recruited in this country for the United States Army, I think it right to communicate to you the substance of a report which has just been made to Her Majesty's Government with regard to the number of persons who are now being shipped as emigrants from Queenstown to New-York. It is stated that within the last fortnight 1,278 emigrants have sailed, the greater number being strong, active young

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

The Case of James P. Hambleton.

RETURN OF GEN. WOOL TO THE WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS.

Some two weeks ago Mr. JAMES P. HAMBLETON, of Georgia, formerly editor and publisher of the Southern Confederacy, a paper rendered infamous by the publication several years ago of the "black list" of New-York merchants, (those not supposed to be favorable to the peculiar institution,) was arrested in this city having lately come from Georgia, and having in his possession $27,000 of Confederate money and bonds. When arrested, HAMBLETON claimed to be a Union man and to have opposed the rebellion from the start; but the fact of his having in his possession so large an amount of Confederate money, coupled with his own declaration that he intended soon to return to Georgia by way of Nassau, was regarded as sufficient cause for his detention, and he has since that time been in the custody of the Government authorities, nominally confined in the Park Barracks, but in reality allowed what might be called the freedom of the City. Last week a writ of habeas corpus was issued by Judge MCCUNN to Capt. ARMSTRONG, of the Park Barracks, and Gen. WOOL, requiring them to produce the body of HAMBLETON for the purpose of inquiring into the cause of his detention. On Saturday Capt. ARMSTRONG made return to the writ that he held him by virtue of an order from his superior officer, Gen. WOOL. He also produced the body of HAMBLETON, and Judge MCCUNN adjourned the hearing of the case to 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. At the hour appointed, SAMUEL G. GLASSEY, Esq., as counsel for Gen. WOOL, appeared and made the following further return to the writ:

RETURN OF GEN. WOOL.

To Hon. John H. McCunn, City Judge:

SIR: For return to the annexed writ, I respectfully certify that said JAMES P. HAMBLETON was arrested by an officer of SIMEON DRAPER, late Provost-Marshal-General; that he was turned over to me by said DRAPER in obedience to order of the Secretary of War, and is now held by me in pursuance of such order. And I further state that the said JAMES P. HAMBLETON is a citizen and resident of the State of Georgia, which State is now in rebellion against the United States; that he left said State recently for the purpose, as I am informed and believe, of procuring within this and other States supplies to be sent to the rebellious State of Georgia, and of procuring information to be used for the benefit of the rebels. That he is held by me as a prisoner subject to military jurisdiction, and I am not permitted to produce or deliver him as required by said writ. All of which is respectfully submitted. JOHN E. WOOL, Maj.-Gen. U. S. A.

Per SAMUEL J. GLASSEY, of Counsel.

Mr. TRAPHAGEN, counsel for HAMBLETON, denied all the allegations in the return, with the exception that his client was a citizen of Georgia. He also imputed bad faith to the opposite party, in not producing the body of HAMBLETON, according to the understanding on Saturday.

Mr. GLASSEY said he did not understand that there was any agreement on his part that HAMBLETON should be produced yesterday, but if it were deemed essential, he would send for him. The question involved in the case was one of great importance, and the United States Government had deputed Ex-Judge PIERREPONT to take charge of it, but he was now in Washington, and would not return before Tuesday. He therefore hoped it would be allowed to stand over, and he would pledge himself, in the meantime, that HAMBLETON should not be removed from the custody of the Court.

Judge MCCUNN said that there was no need of sending for HAMBLETON, although he agreed with Mr. TRAPHAGEN that the understanding was, that he was to be produced. If the facts as alleged in the return of Gen. WOOL should prove to be true, he should by all means remand him to the custody of the Military authorities; but he thought inasmuch as HAMBLETON claimed to be a Union man, and, as his counsel alleged, was willing to take the oath of allegiance, it was one of those cases where the United States Government ought to grant him a hearing. Although a citizen of Georgia, he was also a citizen of the United States, and if a loyal citizen, (and he had no doubt there were an abundance of such in the South,) he was entitled to all the rights of a citizen of the United States. In compliance with the request of counsel for Gen. WOOL, he would adjourn the hearing of the case to 3 P. M., Tuesday, May 12.

At the hour specified on the adjournment, Mr. TRAPHAGEN appeared at the Judge's Chambers, but the opposite party were not forthcoming. After waiting until 4 o'clock and no one appearing on behalf of Gen. WOOL, Judge MCCUNN adjourned the case until 11 o'clock this morning, at the Court of General Sessions, and authorized the counsel for HAMBLETON to notify Capt. ARMSTRONG that unless he complied with the writ and produced the prisoner at that hour, an attachment would issue against him. It is supposed that Ex-Judge PIERREPONT did not arrive from Washington in time to be present at the hearing yesterday.

ANOTHER DARING ROBBERY AT THE NAVY-YARD.

Yesterday morning another daring robbery was discovered at the Brooklyn Navy-yard—this time on board a man-of-war in commission. Between midnight and 4 A. M. the Quartermaster of the watch on board the United States gunboat Sumter, assisted probably by some accomplice, actually seized the safe locked up in the Purser's room, and absconded with it in a small boat, a watchman looking on, and believing all to be right. The thief expected to find $28,000 in the safe; but he was foiled, for, although the Paymaster applied for the money the day before yesterday to the Sub-Treasurer, he did not receive it. There were, however, some $500 in the drawer, which, of course, are gone. Had there been any of the ship's officers on duty, as the law requires, the burglary would have been impossible, and Capt. WINCHESTER will, doubtless, have to explain the matter. It is said that chloroform was administered to some of the officers, who slept very soundly during the removal of the safe. Detectives were after the thief last evening, without much success, so far as could be learned. A Court of Inquiry about the matter was ordered, and will examine all parties concerned to day.

FOREIGN MEN-OF-WAR IN PORT.

The following foreign men-of-war are now in New-York harbor, and their officers and crews are daily visiting the Navy-yard, and the other Government shipbuilding yards in the vicinity of the City:

Spanish frigate Carmen.
French frigate Guerriera.
French steam-transport Allier.
French steam-transport Marceau.
French steam-corvette Catinat.
French frigate Bertholiet.

The latter has just undergone a thorough overhauling at the Brooklyn Navy-yard,

THE TICONDEROGA IN COMMISSION.

Yesterday the United States steam-frigate Ticonderago was put formally in commission, the authorities of the Navy-yard turning her over to her officers. She will leave this port on her first cruise in a few days. The recent experiments with her machinery proved eminently successful.

THE NEW DAY BOAT.—The steamboat City of Albany, built for, and running on the day route, is already classed among the fast boats, for which the North River is justly celebrated. This boat draws but four feet of water, and will, in consequence, avoid the annoyance of detention on the bars. The City of Albany was designed as a test as to whether a wide, light-draft steamboat could be made to attain great speed. Her draft of water is satisfactory, and her speed was shown on Friday in coming from Albany to Hudson in one hour and thirty-two minutes, and to Rhinebeck in three hours, landing as usual.

BROOKLYN NEWS.

GRANT, THE BURGLAR.—CHAS. H. GRANT, alias GORDON, the burglar, about whom so much excitement was caused some months since, in consequence of his numerous and successful burglaries, was arraigned before the Court of Sessions yesterday. The accused pleaded guilty to the indictments found against him, of which there are some eight or nine, and was remanded to jail to await sentence. The prisoner looked well and appeared rather cheerful, although pale on account of his long imprisonment. After GRANT was disposed of, a thin, emaciated-looking young man, named JOSEPH WILMOT, was arraigned on the charge of burglary in the first degree, in breaking into a house and stealing a watch-chain worth fifty cents. He pleaded guilty to burglary in the third degree, and was sent to State Prison for two years. WM. COFFEY was placed on trial, on an indictment for rape on a young female, 15 years of age, named MARGARET GLEESON. The complaining witness was examined, after which the Court adjourned.

SUICIDE.—JOHN MCKAY, Captain of the British ship Liverpool, lying at the foot of North Second-street, E. D., committed suicide on Monday afternoon, by taking a dose of laudanum. He had been laboring under nervous prostration for a day or two, in which state he perpetrated the fatal act. Some of the crew heard him groaning in the cabin, and ascertaining the cause summoned medical aid, but too late to be of any service. He died soon after his condition was discovered. Deceased was 50 years of age, a native of Scotland, and leaves a wife and family in Liverpool, England.

LAW REPORTS.

A Replevin Suit and What Became of It.

SUPERIOR COURT—TRIAL TERM.

Before Justice Monell.

Charles J. Abrams vs. James Lynch, Sheriff.—Replevin for contents of furniture-store levied on under an attachment issued out of the Supreme Court in favor of Christian Fenrich against Eliza J. Boyd, wife of George Boyd. Mrs. Boyd bought the store and good will in July, 1860, for $4,400. Her husband managed the business, and debts for furniture were incurred to a large amount, to various mechanics and manufacturers and for accommodation indorsements. In January, 1862, the plaintiff took a bill of sale of the stock for about $1,250, of which $509 was by assuming a debt due to a firm of which plaintiff was a member. The balance of the consideration was alleged to have been borrowed money, and the assumption of debts to mechanics and others who had furnished goods. George Boyd continued in the management of the business. The defendant claimed that the stock was worth $2,000, and that there was in reality no other consideration paid than the $509. That the plaintiff was the son-in-law of Mrs. Boyd, and the sale was only designed to cover the property from Mrs. Boyd's creditors. The evidence was quite conflicting as to some of the points at issue. The jury rendered a verdict for the defendant.

For plaintiff, J. K. Hackett; for defendant, A. J. Vanderpoel.

The Harlem Railroad Company again Enjoined.

COMMON PLEAS—CHAMBERS.

Before Judge Hilton.

John J. Phelps et al. vs. The Mayor and the Harlem Railroad Company.—This was application on the part of property owners on Madison-av., requiring the defendants to show cause on the 15th inst., why they should not be perpetually enjoined from laying their tracks in that avenue. It is alleged by the plaintiffs that the Corporation has violated the City Charter in making the grant, and that the Railroad Company has also violated its charter.

It is further claimed that a railroad in that avenue would be a nuisance and would depreciate private property. It also appears that the property owners hold the fee of five feet in width on each side of that avenue, without the use of which the avenue would scarcely be wide enough to accommodate a railroad.

Decisions.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS.

Before Justice Leonard.

Slocomb et al. vs. Willis.—Motion denied, with $10 costs of opposing.

Whitlock, Jr., vs. Bradford.—Motion granted; $10 costs to abide the event.

Quinn vs. Ward.—Motion granted; $10 costs of motion to abide the event.

SUPERIOR COURT—SPECIAL TERM.

Before Justice Monell.

Helen L. McNaught vs. John McNaught.—None of the objections to the proceedings in this case are well taken. The alias attachment was properly issued without the entering of a special order for that purpose. It is the constant and correct practice to issue an alias upon the return of the first attachment not served. There is nothing in the statute or practice of this Court which requires an order for such purpose.

The defendant having been adjudged guilty of the contempt upon a return of the order to show cause, founded upon affidavits setting forth the facts constituting the contempt, no further specification of the facts and circumstances is necessary. Proceedings commenced before one Judge of this Court, may be continued and completed before another Judge.—Laws of 1840, Chap. 276, Sec. 2.

The defendant, in his answers to the interrogatories, furnishes no excuse for disobeying the order of the Court. There is ample power to protect a party from vexation or unnecessary arroganee upon these examinations. The party cannot himself be the judge whether the examination is properly conducted. His duty is to obey the order and then ask the protection of the Court if he considers the examination is conducted in an improper way or for an improper purpose. The defendant having chosen willfully to disregard and contemn the authority and order of the Court, and such misconduct being calculated to, and having actually defeated, impaired, impeded and prejudiced the rights and remedies of the plaintiff in the matter pending before the Judge, he must be dealt with in a manner commensurate with the nature of the offence and the injury sustained.

A fine of $60 must be imposed upon the defendant, and he must also pay $10 costs of the supplemental proceedings, and $10 costs of motion for the attachment, and $10 costs of this motion, and stand committed until such fine and costs are paid, unless sooner discharged by the Court.

TUESDAY, May 12—P. M.

There is a large employment for Money among the Stock Brokers, at 6@7 ₱ cent., but the supply, this week, comes more freely than at the close of last week, when the rates first turned. Some of the old firms on the Street are getting Money to-day at 5 ₱ cent., and most of them, where the sums wanted are not very large, at 6 ₱ cent. The instances in which the extreme figure of 7 ₱ cent. is paid are found with parties who are carrying heavy lines of speculative Shares, and to whose customers the difference between 6@7 ₱ cent. per annum is of little consequence on such a Stock market as now prevails. The demand for United States 6 ₱ cent. Stocks continues large for the 5-20-year issue, by the conversion of Currency at par, and as the time draws nigh when this privilege will cease by limitation, the daily subscriptions are more likely to increase than to fall off. A good many large subscriptions will no doubt be secured where the holders are not immediately prepared to pay the whole amount of the money. This can be done by a small preliminary deposit with any of the Sub-Loan Agents, who, being active Money Brokers, are able to make the necessary advances to the Government, and thus secure the Stock at par. The subscriptions to the Loan Agents in this City to-day amount to $1,400,000, and to the Treasury Office direct, $518,550—together $1,918,550. Sales of the 6 ₱ cents. of 1881 were made at the Stock Exchange at 107⅞@108 ₱ cent.

At the Stock Exchange, this morning, a portion of the Railway Share list gave way from the extreme prices of yesterday, the decline, for the moment, on the first call, being from 1 to 3 ₱ cent. on Michigan Southern, Harlem, Fort Wayne, Toledo, &c., while there was much firmness on Erie at 88@88⅛ ₱ cent., and a further rise on some of the new Western shares, such as Prairie du Chieu, Northwest, Mississippi and Missouri, &c. Later in the day there was also an additional rise on Erie, under a strong and very general demand, amounting, in the phrase of the Street, to "a movement." This was further advanced at the Second Board when the price was carried up to 90 ₱ cent. on the printed list and to 91@91½ ₱ cent. before the Brokers left the Board-room. The general Railway list strongly sympathized, and the market was buoyant on the recovery from the morning's hesitation. Illinois Central sold at par, and Cleveland and Pittsburgh returned to 99 cash and par, buyer 30 days, after selling in the forenoon at 97 ₱ cent.

At 4 o'clock the following prices were made, as compared with Monday night. The extreme advance in Erie was to 92½ ₱ cent. New-York Central rose to 120½ from 118 in the morning. Sales of Northwest were made as high as 38 ₱ cent., and Mississippi and Missouri, at 33 ₱ cent.; both recently introduced to active dealings. Prairie du Chien rose 10 ₱ cent. on yesterday's sales:

The price of Gold Coin opened at a further decline of ¾ ₱ cent. this morning, but subsequently returned to 148⅞@149 ₱ cent., and finally closed about 149⅛ ₱ cent. The English news is esteemed favorable for this side, both politically and in respect to the Grain market. Exchange for the Boston mail left off 163@164 ₱ cent.

There is a considerable rise in most of the City Bank Shares, under a good demand. Bank of Commerce advanced to 105½ ₱ cent., against 98 a few days ago:

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

We publish this morning a congratulatory order from Gen. HOOKER to the Army of the Potomac. He says if it has not accomplished all that was expected, the reasons are well known to it. The obstacles were of a character not to be foreseen or prevented by human sagacity or resources. New laurels have been added to its former renown. Long marches have been made, rivers have been crossed, the enemy has been surprised in his intrenchments, and wherever the army has fought, it has inflicted heavier blows than it has received. It has taken from the enemy five thousand prisoners and fifteen colors, captured and brought off seven pieces of artillery, and placed hors du combat eighteen thousand of his chosen troops. His depôts, filled with vast amounts of stores, have been destroyed, his communications have been damaged, prisoners have been captured within the fortifications of his Capital, and his country has been filled with fear and consternation.

It appears, according to our latest advices from Washington, that there has been no general movement of Gen. HOOKER'S army across the Rappahannock—at least, there had not been up to Monday noon. Everything, however, was ready for it. A report was current on Monday that the rebels had left their intrenchments on the heights at Fredericksburgh, but subsequent close observations demonstrated the fact that their numbers there were undiminished. The statement is now made that at the time our forces returned to the north bank of the Rappahannock, only two divisions of the rebel army remained on our front near Chancellorsville, as a rear guard—the great bulk of the enemy having been withdrawn previously.

A letter from Fortress Monroe, in the Providence Journal, dated May 7, says "the most important movements are on foot now, and when completed will be of the most vital importance to the Army of the Potomac in defeating and crushing the rebel hosts. What these movements are is not for the public to know at present, as on their secrecy our success depends. But the plan is deep laid and well conned over, and cannot well fail."

The Memphis Bulletin of the 6th inst. announces the reception of the news at Gen. GRANT'S headquarters that Col. GRIERSON, who has been operating with so much success on the enemy's communications in Mississippi, has arrived with his command safely at Baton Rouge.

Charleston papers are very silent about the injuries done to Fort Sumter in the late assault by the iron-clads, but a letter from a correspondent on board the Ironsides to the Baltimore American, says that as soon as the fleet withdrew staging or scaffolding was erected on the outside of the fort, and for more than a month past the rebels have been at work repairing damages, and are still at work. There are large holes in the wall very distinctly seen.

GENERAL NEWS.

We give this morning further European intelligence by the steamship City of Washington, the arrival of which we announced yesterday morning. The news is mainly an elaboration of the summary already published, but is of much interest, as bearing upon the relations of our Government to that of Great Britain. Among other matters will be found an explanation, in a speech of Earl RUSSELL in the House of Lords, of the proceedings in the case of the Peterhoff's mails.

Important advices from Mexico are again received by way of San Francisco—from the Capital to the 16th, and from Puebla to the 14th ult. The French are said to have gained nothing in the siege of the latter place since the 6th, and were occupying only six blocks of the city and the fortification San Javier. Gen. ORTEGA, on the 12th, officially announced that the condition of the city was unchanged, and expressed the greatest confidence that the French could not take and hold it. An attempt to capture three convents held by the Mexicans by assault failed, and the Mexicans captured a number of prisoners from a Zouave regiment. COMONFORT still held the road to the Capital.

About 12 o'clock on Monday night, a powder magazine, located near the foot of 78th-st., East River, exploded from some cause yet unknown. A large amount of property in the vicinity was destroyed, and much damage was done to the public buildings on Randall's and Ward's Islands. The force of the concussion was such as to awaken persons at their houses fifteen miles from the scene of the explosion. Several persons are known to have been seriously, if not fatally injured. In New-Haven the effect was sensibly felt, and there as well as in many other places, it was believed to be an earthquake. An investigation as to the cause of the explosion will be made to-day by the authorities.

The writ of habeas corpus issued by Judge McCUNN, in favor of JAMES P. HAMBLETON, of Georgia, now held in custody at the Park Barracks by order of Gen. WOOL, was to have been argued yesterday, but the counsel for the Government did not make their appearance at the hour appointed, and the Judge adjourned the hearing to 11 o'clock this morning at the Court-room of the General Sessions. HAMBLETON was arrested as a spy, and Gen. WOOL claims that the military authorities have exclusive jurisdiction in the case. Judge McCUNN intimated that he should issue an attachment against Capt. ARMSTRONG, who now has HAMBLETON in custody, unless the prisoner was produced in Court to-day.

The Board of Aldermen held a special meeting at 12 o'clock M., yesterday. A communication was received from the Corporation Counsel, giving the opinion that the provision in the City Tax law of 1862, giving a compensation of $1,200 per year to each member of the Common Council, holds good for this year. The Comptroller reported that he had invited bids for the Houston-street Ferry to Brooklyn, E D., for one year—the longest time for which he has the right, in himself, to dispose of such a franchise—and was offered $18,600; but the present lessees had notified him that they were willing to pay $100 more than any other parties. The Comptroller thinks a large rent could be obtained on a sale of the franchise of the property for ten years. The rent paid heretofore has been $6,500 per annum. Mr. BOOLE wished to refer the communication to the Ferry Committee. Mr. FROMENT said such a reference would be useless, unless the object were to cause delay, as the Charter required the ferry to be sold to the highest bidder. Mr. BOOLE wished to know whether the bidders were reliable. The City had lost much from giving such franchises to parties who would pay up well for a brief term, and then fall in arrears. Referred. The Street Cleaning Committee presented a report, which was laid over, in favor of canceling the Hackley contract by paying the assignee of the contract, SAMUEL DONALDSON, and parties whom he owes for money advanced and labor performed to carry out the contract, various amounts making an aggregate of $179,064 26. It is claimed that this sum has been already expended on the streets. Of course, Mr. DONALDSON assents to this proposition. (The Commissioners of Health, who met an hour later, adopted a resolution offered by the Resident Physician, directing the City Inspector to resume the work of street-cleaning and to confer with the Mayor and Comptroller as to the mode of procuring money to pay for it.) The Board adjourned to 5 o'clock P. M. on next Thursday.

The Board of Supervisors met at 3 o'clock P. M. yesterday. Bills incurred for extending the Register's office, and amounting to $1,173 33, were ordered to be paid. A bill of $78, for serving notices for the Excise Commissioners, was opposed by Mr. PURDY, who feared an acknowledgment of the legality of the claim by the Board would be setting a precedent for numerous other claims by the same Commission. He would not be surprised at receiving bills from them, at the expiration of their term of office, to the amount of $40,000 or $50,000. The bill was allowed. On a report from the Committee on Printing and Advertising, in favor of paying bills for advertising, amounting in all to $5,200, Messrs. STEWART and PURDY took occasion to revert to a veto message of the Mayor, wherein the Board were charged with extravagance in respect to advertising, to place the charge in comparison with the fact that a considerable proportion of the bills were for publishing the Mayor's vetoes. The bills were ordered to be paid. The Board adjourned to 3 P. M. on next Tuesday.

The twelfth anniversary of the Five Points' House of Industry was held at the Academy of Music last evening. Addresses were made by Bishop CLARK, of Rhode Island, Rev. Dr. TYNG, Rev. CHAS. S. ROBINSON, and others. The receipts of the year were $19,257 07, and the expenses $16,977 07, besides $3,100 invested in bond and mortgage. The balance in the Treasury is $438 51. The number of inmates during the year was 691, of which 428 were children under 16.

In the Court of Sessions yesterday, before Judge McCUNN, MATTHEW CUNNINGHAM pleaded guilty to an assault upon GEO. BEASMANN, and EDWARD JONES pleaded guilty to a felonious assault upon JNO. CONNOLLY, from the effects of which he has since died. Both prisoners were remanded for sentence.

The demand for the 6 ₱ cent. Stocks of the United States yesterday amounted to two millions of dollars. The Railway Share market closed buoyant, after a partial weakness in the forenoon; Erie sold at 92½ ₱ cent., the highest figure since the years 1853-'4. Money in steady supply, at 6@7 ₱ cent. Gold 149½ against 148⅞ on Monday night.

A very moderate business was transacted in Breadstuffs, yesterday, at drooping prices. Provisions were rather more freely purchased, but at less buoyant rates. The principal kinds of Groceries attracted more attention. Tallow was brisker, but cheaper. Whisky was depressed. Cotton was heavy and lower. Metals, Oils, Hops, Seeds, Spices, Hemp, Wool, Fruit, Coal, Chemicals, and Naval Stores, were inactive. Fire Crackers were in more demand. Heavier freight engagements were effected.

The Obligations of Neutrals—The London Times Coming up to the Mark.

The restored harmony of the North for the prosecution of the war, or some other potent cause, has wonderfully opened the eyes of the London Times to our national rights. Probably no argument has from the outset been more frequently pressed in favor or extenuation of the building and fitting out of the Confederate privateers than that the National Government had no right to complain, because its own agents had been all the while importing arms and munitions from the British market. There has been a persistent attempt from the outset to jumble up these different transactions, and produce the impression that it was all a matter of traffic which both belligerents were availing themselves of, and of which neither could justly complain. Our complaints have been treated precisely as if we claimed, as a matter of law, that England should not observe the obligations of a neutral, but discriminate in our favor.

In fact, there never has been any such claim. We found fault with the indecent haste with which the English Government recognized the belligerent status of the rebellion. But that recognition, as it proved, was merely a question of time. We finally ourselves, were obliged to do the same thing, by agreeing upon a cartel for the exchange of prisoners, and by establishing the blockade, which could only bind foreign nations as a belligerent right. Our grievance has been, not that England has treated the Confederacy as a belligerent Power, but that she has not observed her legal obligations, as a neutral, between the belligerents.

True, there has been a good deal said about the friendship and comity which England owes us as an old nation bound to her by treaties of amity and commerce. Unquestionably there are moral and honorary obligations of this character; but they are not legal obligations, and every American school boy knew, or ought to have known, that they would go for naught with "the nation of shopkeepers," just so soon as their interests were concerned. There was not a little truth as well as a good deal of petulance in BURKE'S sally after his defeat in Bristol—at that time the mart of the Slave-trade, and the first commercial city of the realm. "Do not talk to me of a merchant:—a merchant [of course he knew none but British merchants] is the same in every part of the world—his gold his god, his invoice his country, his ledger his bible, his desk his altar, the Exchange his church, and he has faith in none but his banker." It was the British business man who kidnapped Africans, who manufactured idols for the heathen, who forced opium on the Chinese, who lent money to Russia for crushing Hungary, who sold powder and guns to the rebellious Sepoys; and it is he above all the men on the planet who has ever been on the lookout for a bargain without the slightest care for mischiefs that might come from it to humanity and justice. Of course we have never doubted that these men would sell Whitworth cannon and any amount of powder and munitions to the slave power which has rebelled against our Government. This has been perfectly understood by every intelligent American from the beginning. All that we have ever expected has been that—saying nothing of former friendship, of moral right, of humanity—the established law, so far as it applies to this matter, and only so far, would be recognized and enforced. Hitherto that has not been done by the English Government; and it is just that which has made the difficulty.

The essential fact is that the fitting out of armed vessels in the waters of a neutral to cruise against the vessels of any belligerent is a violation of international law. The simple sale of arms and munitions is not. Says KENT: "Neutrals may lawfully sell at home to the belligerent Powers contraband articles, subject to the right of seizure in transitu. This right has been explicitly declared by the judicial authorities of this country." Therefore, so far as international law is concerned, Englishmen have a perfect right to sell Whitworth guns, or any other guns, or any munitions of war, or any other "contraband article," to either belligerent. But a ship, armed and equipped, is not a contraband article, any more than an armed and equipped regiment would be. It is not an article at all. It is a force, and the Government that transfers it, or permits any of its subjects to transfer it to either belligerent, by the very act makes itself a party to the war. That is the true doctrine, and the English allies of the Confederates at last admit it. Says the London Times:

"The Confederates want to buy ships and munitions of us, but ships above all. The Federals want exactly the same supplies, but not so much ships as munitions. Luckily, however, for the latter, the supply of munitions is more allowable than the supply of ships. The Federal Government began by sending to Liverpool for gunboats, to be not only built, but equipped and armed for service in this civil war. But these orders could not be executed at the moment, and in the meantime it became evident that it would be better to desist from the attempt, and withdraw from this particular market altogether, than to make it available on the condition of sharing it with the enemy. So the orders have ceased, and the Federal Government, instead of buying ships itself, prefers to denounce the illegality of the trade. This seems hard, but the trade is illegal, and MR. ADAMS, in setting our Government in action against it, does no more than he is entitled to do. But the Federal Government is itself buying munitions of war by wholesale all the while? No doubt; but this trade is not illegal as far as we are concerned. It is contraband in the eyes of the other belligerent, but that is just another point at which the Federals enjoy an advantage. * *

We cannot help it if these laws press hardly on the Confederates, and if we appear to have nothing but rigor for them, and nothing but laxity for their opponents. That difference is the consequence of their different positions. We are bound in the first place to apply the law, and we cannot but be conscious in the next place that this is the very law of which we ourselves should claim the benefit. Mr. CORDEN, therefore, is in a position of advantage. He can tell us that the Confederates must not be suffered to buy a ship, for that is the law; and he can tell us that the Federals may buy any amount of gun-barrels, for that is the law also. It is a very pleasant law for his friends, but some day it may be pleasant for us, and so it is not our interest, any more than it is our right, to impeach it."

Well, we care nothing for the motives which have influenced this change; it is enough that it has come at last, and that it is now so clearly admitted that our Government simply stands for the law. If the English Government will only see to it that the law thus recognized, is respected and enforced, there can be no serious difficulty between the two countries on any other question. Our Secretary of State has uniformly refrained from urgently pressing any principle of doubtful legal validity. In view of the delicate relations between the two countries, he has always been disposed to be liberal and forbearing in reference to any point fairly open to dispute. There fore, no danger can come from such questions. It is only the deliberate disregard of law which is settled and undeniable that has excited the grave apprehensions that war between the two countries would sooner or later ensue. We rejoice in the indications that there is to be an end of British delinquency in this respect. Every such new indication is a new chance for continued peace.

Where Shall Vallandigham Go?

We published on Monday morning the charges upon which Mr. VALLANDIGHAM was recently tried by Court-martial in Cincinnati. We have no doubt that the evidence offered was sufficient to establish their truth. There remains the question, what sentence the Court will pass upon him. If we could have our choice in the matter, it should be that he be sent South beyond our lines. Taking his life might seem too hard, imprisonment would quite likely make a martyr of him, but every one will recognize the fitness of sending him to Dixie, to join that noble company of traitors whose praises he has sounded so loudly, and to receive from them in person that meed of praise which they have so steadily bestowed upon him at a distance.

It is quite time that he should appear upon another stage. He has appeared before our Northern people in the character of a pacificator quite often enough. He has inculcated, everywhere he has gone, the doctrine that nothing could be gained by war. Let him go now and try what he can do in that line on the other side. Let him urge upon the rebels the manifold evils of the war which they are waging, and the utter impossibility of accomplishing anything by battle. He has lifted up a testimony among us against the dangers of military power. Let him have the chance to lay open the same matter before the rebels, for they are, to say the least of it, in as much danger as we in this direction. He has dilated to us upon the glories of the Union, and its benefits to us all in the years that are past. Let him see what he can accomplish by portraying them before those who have assailed it. He has been earnest in setting before our people the horrors of abolition. Let him go and suggest to the slaveholding rebels how much rebellion has done for abolition. He has exhausted his resources for opprobrious terms for those who would put arms in the negroes' hands, who would fight by their side, or consent to receive a helping hand from them. Let him go and pour out the vials of his condemnation upon those at the South who would conscript the slaves into the rebel army, as Gen. BANKS found was about to be done in Louisiana.

It would be very interesting, perhaps instructive, to see what reception he would meet with. Will the rebels clothe him in robes of honor, and send him upon a triumphal procession, as one whom they delight to honor? We rather incline to think that they will let him alone severely. While he was among us he might do them some good. When he has crossed our lines he is to them but one more mouth to feed, unless indeed he should don the butternut uniform and shoulder a rebel musket. He may, perhaps, avoid being conscripted, if he strongly maintains that he is a citizen of the United States, as we see that an act providing for the conscription of such citizens "sojourning in the Confederate States," which passed the rebel Congress, failed to become a law by JEFF. DAVIS not signing it, and we all know that the rebels would never force a man into the army, except with the fullest warrant of law.

On the whole, we are inclined to think that sending him South now would do more good to our cause, than his presence has done us harm heretofore. Not that he will say anything to help us—not that anything he could say would have the slightest influence upon the rebel leaders, for as soon as he crosses their lines, he is a squeezed orange. But the fact of our ejecting him will be one which must be widely spread, and it will speak most convincingly to every one who hears it of the determination of the North, which is hardening from flint to adamant, to suppress this rebellion, and to grind to powder all those who would sustain it;—and so, if we could reach the ear of the powers that have it in charge, we should urge upon them to send him across our lines, treating him as tenderly, but as inflexibly, as IZAK WALTON would have the angler treat the frog.

The Depletion of Our Army—The Imperative Demand for Reserves.

The return of the two years' and nine months' men during the next few weeks will reduce our Army of the Potomac by a good many thousands; battles, marches and disease will reduce it by a good many more. And yet not a single man has been raised by the Government to fill up the gaps; so that it is not impossible that we may find ourselves this Summer as we found ourselves last Summer, with the army in the field reduced so low as to be unable to act on the offensive, and with no organized reserves ready to reinforce it. The natural result of such a state of things as this, is, of course, a long period of inaction, during the very best weather of the year, with a fair prospect of the Winter setting in just as we are once more ready for the field.

We cannot help saying, that after the experience of last year, this ought not to have occurred. It was bad enough to have entered upon war on a gigantic scale, without a single brigade of reserve—a spectacle which has, we believe, never been witnessed within this century in any country engaged in a serious contest with a powerful enemy. But it is still worse to find ourselves persisting in the same error after two years of frequently disastrous war. We have again and again been overpowered for want of fresh troops at decisive moments. We have again and again been unable to follow up advantages won by hard fighting, for the same reason. The war has been remarkable beyond any other war in history for the indecisiveness of its great battles, because we go into action with every man we can muster, and after a day or two of slaughter are so exhausted that we are unable to follow the enemy in his retreat. It is no doubt true that the rebels do the same thing, and that it has as often saved us from their pursuit as them from ours; but they have no choice in the matter. Their inferiority in population is so great, that the whole force they can gather together at the various points of attack, is barely sufficient to present a good front to the forces of the Union. The recent raids of our cavalry have revealed the fact that not only have they no reserves, but they have nothing to make a reserve out of. All the men in the Confederacy are needed to bear the first shock of each of our onsets. So they must literally in every action "do or die."

It is now two months since the Conscription act became a law, and in spite of the most desperate necessity, no attempt has yet been made to enforce it. Making all possible allowance for the difficulty of making what are called "arrangements" for its enforcement, and appointing Provost-Marshals, we think, considering the interests at stake, one month was amply sufficient for the purpose; and there ought by this time to have been as large a force as may be needed, either actually in arms under its provisions, or ready to be put under arms. As matters stand, we shall probably see the month of August before it begins to make itself felt in the field; and there is time enough between now and then for the Republic to be either lost or saved.

It is said the Government has been waiting for "a victory" to put the public in good humor before beginning to draft. This would be a very sensible course, if a victory was certain, or if a defeat was to put an end to the war. But in either contingency the war is still to be prosecuted; and men are needed, as we have already said, before a victory or before a defeat, and not after it. If HOOKER wins all his battles at the cost of seventeen thousand men, a few such triumphs would leave us without a man in the ranks, so that they would positively have no more effect on the final result than the same number of reverses, unless we have men ready to fill up the gaps, and keep the army at its full strength. Then supposing us to be defeated, we believe that we have not concluded as soon as that occurs to give up the contest. As long as the Government and the people are determined to fight on as long as may be necessary, men will be needed, whatever be the result either of the next battle or of the next campaign; and to put off raising them until we see what will happen, is not simply great weakness but great cruelty.

It paves the way for needless slaughter, by needlessly prolonging the conflict. Nothing can justify the practice, which has already worked so much mischief, of sending troops raw to the field, ignorant of the manœuvres, ignorant of their arms, and ignorant of their officers; and yet this is the natural and unavoidable consequence of not raising men until they are absolutely needed for instant service. If it economized either life or money, there might be some excuse for it, but it does neither. It is neither more nor less than the application to the work of Government of the habit common among children and weak people, of putting off the evil day, of postponing disagreeable duties until the moment when any further neglect of them will entail ruin or destruction. The draft will, no doubt, be a disagreeable thing both for those who enforce it and those who are drafted. But every consequence of war is disagreeable. Wounds, and death, and sickness, and taxation, are all disagreeable; military discipline is irksome and disagreeable; but they are not for that reason things which we shirk or avoid, if we mean to fight. The people having deliberately resolved to make war, it is the duty of the Government to exact from them whatever sacrifices are necessary to make the war successful. Presidents and Secretaries and Commanders-in-Chief are not put in power to represent the nation in its mean, or cowardly, or selfish side, but in its noblest mood, and highest resolves. And there is nothing more certain than that that Administration will always be most successful which boldly bases its calculations on the presumption that the great mass of the people are brave, patriotic and self-sacrificing; that they are ready to suffer and do as much as may be necessary for the common weal; and that no frank and loyal appeal to their good sense and courage will ever meet with an unfavorable response.

Touching Bottom.

Some of our readers may remember Mr. J. L. O'SULLIVAN, formerly of this City—at one time member of the State Assembly, afterward Minister to Portugal, and now a resident, for private purposes, of London. He has just published in that City a letter to Prof. MORSE, in favor of the rebellion, which goes a little beyond any literature of the same kind we have had the misfortune to fall in with hitherto. He insists upon the adoption by the Democratic party, of which he has long been a prominent and influential member, of a peace policy; but he disdains the pretexts by which Messrs. WOOD, BROOKS and other peace men here at home seek to commend their projects to public favor. He denounces the old Union as having been "very defective," and affects no sort of regard for the present Constitution. He avows frankly his entire sympathy with the South—rejoices in every triumph of their arms—declares that every American worthy of the name should be far "more proud to share in the magnificent glory of defeat, than to swell the exulting hosts of brutal triumph," and declares that if the South is conquered he shall "claim the high honor of sharing in such noble misfortune."

Mr. O'SULLIVAN does not intend to confine his efforts to a simple declaration of his personal opinions. He calls upon the Democratic party to rally to their support: and here is the platform which he erects for them to occupy:

"And now I desire to urge upon that Democracy with which has been associated all my public life, to take at once, openly and boldly, the ground to which it will and inevitably must ere long arrive. That ground is comprised in the following points:

1. Peace at all hazards; not a mere opposition to the corruptions, unconstitutionalities and imbecilities of the Administration in their military conduct, and their Abolitionist policy in the management of the war, but short and simple stoppage of it, even with recognition of the independence of the seceded States as an accomplished fact; and as a fact which has now, by the substantial unanimity of the South, become invested with the sanction of our own great fundamental principle of the right of self-government inherent in any people strong and large enough to claim its benefit.

2. The option to be freely left to the Border States to determine by popular vote their own future position.

3. Repudiation of the War Debt, all fortunately domestic, and all well meriting such necessary repudiation, with some reservation in favor of innocent minors.

4. Convocation of a Northern Convention of States for the purpose of such adjustment of their future political relations as shall be determined upon by the Convention, with ratification by the peoples of the several States.

5. Determination that New-England shall no longer have six times the representation in either branch of the Legislature she would be entitled to on a fair comparison of population with such a State as New-York.

6. Invitation of the seceded States to hold a simultaneous and similar Convention at some contiguous point, with a view to the interchange of negotiations directed, on the part of the North, toward some possibility of a reconstruction of an improved, voluntary and new confederation; and, failing that hope, (as probably it would now fail,) then to the adjustment of such relations of conterminous intercourse as may, so far as possible, replace some of the reciprocal benefits of the old one, and leave open some degree of ulterior hope for the indefinite and the voluntary future."

But Mr. O'SULLIVAN is not content with this profession of his personal faith in regard to the war. He extends his championship of the rebel cause to everything with which it has ever had any connection. He vindicates the repudiation of Mississippi, while he denounces that of Michigan: and he insists that the war debt of the United States must be repudiated, while that of the rebel South must be paid! The war debt, he says, is held almost exclusively by contractors, Republicans and other supporters and abettors of the war, and should be repudiated "as a small measure of punishment to fall upon those who will stand collectively responsible for the war, in which and for which it was created." If any man, anywhere, North or South, has more completely repudiated every thought of honesty and principle, and committed himself more openly to the most flagrant and shameless swindling, than Mr. O'SULLIVAN does in this position, we have not yet been unfortunate enough to hear of him.

The Democrats have here a platform explicit enough certainly for all practical purposes. All they have to do is to wage war, open and unmistakeable, upon their own country and espouse the cause of their enemies, and then, in addition to this, turn upon their own friends and rob them as the penalty of their patriotism,—and then they will come up to Mr. O'SULLIVAN'S standard of public duty. It is humiliating to think that any man, who ever lived in the United States, who knows anything of the character of our institutions and our people, and who has brains enough to appreciate the distinctions between right and wrong, can have proved so utterly insensible to every suggestion of honor and of patriotism as to put forth such sentiments as are contained in the pamphlet of Mr. O'SULLIVAN. If there is any "lower deep" in the abyss of secession than that which he has sounded, we should be glad to know it. Our present impression is that he has touched bottom.

Contraband Mails—Lord Russell's Speech.

The Government of Lord PALMERSTON has been forced into the confessional by threatening parliamentary majorities. In the House of Lords the aspect became cloudy enough for Lord RUSSELL when such a Whig placeman as the Marquis of Clanricarde undertook to expose the pusillanimity of his friend and patron in the Foreign Office. And Lord PALMERSTON must have found that the basis of his power was gradually being undermined, when the twin radical members for Sheffield led the assault on the foreign policy of the Government, in its bearing on the right of search and the claims of belligerents.

The City of Washington's mail, received yesterday, shows that the position of the English Ministry has not improved in the judgment either of the Lords or Commoners; and the speech of Lord RUSSELL on the subject of the Peterhoff's mails, which we publish this morning, is probably to be viewed as much in the light of a party appeal, as in its broader character of an exposition of international duties. As a party speech, it is meant to conciliate such insubordinate followers of the Whigs as Lord CLANRICARDE and Mr. ROEBUCK. In the same light, it offers propitiation of a certain kind to the blockade-running fraternity, by promising ample explanations and fit amends for every indignity suffered by the owners of the Peterhoffs, the Dolphins and the Adelas. Meanwhile it prays for forbearance; it points with solemn emphasis to the responsibility of Ministers; and, in short, as a party effort it is tolerably ingenious, and ought to stave off the impending parliamentary crisis, at least, for some weeks longer.

If we turn to the more serious view of the question, and see what was really at issue in this matter of the Peterhoff's mails, we are fortunately able to change the tenses in referring to the subject; for Mr. SEWARD untied the knot that troubled Lord RUSSELL and his colleagues, when he ordered the mails of the suspected vessel to be forwarded intact to their destination. Still, as a chapter—and a not unimportant one—in the history of the times, the Peterhoff mail question, as Lord RUSSELL pictures it, deserves notice.

It appears, then, that while Mr. SEWARD, on the back of the trouble arising out of the Ariel case, so long ago as the beginning of November last, caused instructions to be issued from the Navy Department, forbidding the opening of any foreign mail on board a prize vessel, the Secretary of State at the same time suggested, or at least conceived, the propriety of such mails being submitted for examination to the Consul of the country to which the vessel belonged. Whether he put this proposal in any formal shape, we have nothing to show; but it is much more probable that Mr. SEWARD had made the matter merely a subject of informal discussion. The point, in any case, is immaterial; we have to do mainly with the first attempt to put the suggestion in force.

On the 4th of April last, Mr. Consul ARCHIBALD, of this City, was notified to attend the Prize Commission sitting here in the case of the Peterhoff. The mail-bag of the Peterhoff, bearing Her Majesty's Postmaster-General's Seal, was shown to him. The proposal to break the seal Mr. ARCHIBALD opposed, and asked that it should be at once forwarded to its destination. But the officers of the Court appear to have insisted that the bag should be opened, and that course was accordingly adopted, without the British Consul's assistance. The contents of the bag consisted simply of a few parcels of mail matter addressed to Matamoras. Mr. ARCHIBALD thereupon related the facts, as he had witnessed them, to Lord LYONS; and Mr. SEWARD, being reminded by that functionary that the opening of the bag in question was a violation of the order issued from the Navy Department, (already referred to,) readily promised attention to the subject. Meanwhile Mr. ARCHIBALD was again summoned before the Prize Court, and was a second time invited to open the packages found in the bag, and become the judge of what was, bona fide, legitimate, and what was contraband correspondence. Mr. ARCHIBALD again declined to act, except as a witness, and, once more, made his report to Lord LYONS, who appears to have quietly settled matters with Mr. SEWARD; the mail packages, as we have said, having been ultimately ordered to their destination.

Removed from the scene of party conflict which so seriously threatens the overthrow of the Palmerston Cabinet, it will be seen there is really nothing in this case at all threatening to the international relations. The calling in of Mr. ARCHIBALD was certainly not, per se, a hostile or unfriendly act. If it was an act due to the State Department at Washington, it supplied most direct and practical evidence that it was Mr. SEWARD'S desire—should the opening of the Peterhoff's mail be determined on by the Prize Court—that it should take place in a manner as little offensive as possible to the foreign Power concerned. The policy of submitting contraband mail matter to the arbitrament of the Consuls of the Government interested, may be open to discussion; but the friendliness of the intention in this special case could hardly, one should think, be questioned. The truth appears to be, that the party for which Lord RUSSELL speaks is sorely pressed by parliamentary antagonists, and we in this country get our share of the general buffeting as it comes.

NEWS FROM FORTRESS MONROE.

Arrangements for the Exchange of Prisoners.

FORTRESS MONROE, Monday, May 11.

The steamer City of Richmond, Capt. KELLEY, arrived to-day from New-York.

A rebel flag-of-truce boat came down the James River to-day from Richmond, to within hailing distance of our fleet at Newport's News, and the flag-of-truce officer sent through our fleet to Old Point for Col. LUDLOW, the Union Commissioner for the exchange of prisoners, to go up and meet the rebel Commissioner OULD. At 5 o'clock this afternoon Col. LUDLOW had not returned from the Confederate flag-of-truce boat.

Destruction of a Cotton Mill by Fire.

BOSTON, Tuesday, May 12.

The Palmer Cotton Manufacturing Mills, at Three Rivers, in Palmer, Massachusetts, was destroyed by fire Sunday morning. It was a granite building, 280 feet long and five stories high, with a capacity for 10,000 spindles, and employed 300 hands. The lose is estimated at $250,000, a large portion of which is insured in Boston and Hartford offices.

[Communicated.]

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

A short time since our attention was arrested by an announcement in the public journals of a new discovery in electrical science, which, if true, must transcend in importance all other discoveries, the lightning-rod and telegraph not excepted.

At the present time thoughtful minds everywhere are looking for the revelation of new and important discoveries in science, and when an individual presents his theory, claiming to have discovered new light, and to have removed the vail of obscurity from a subject of the highest importance, upon which much has been written and more conjectured, it is proper that his claims should be presented, and carefully examined and tested.

WE REFER TO THE DISCOVERIES

in Electricity as a therapeutic agent, by Dr. CHAMBERLIN, at No. 50 Bond-street, New-York, a distinguished electrical physician. The announcement of Dr. C., united with an invitation to all who desire to investigate the subject, induced us to call at his rooms and ascertain, if possible, the truth of his claims. In conversing with the Doctor, we learned that he had devoted many years to the study of, and experiments in electrical science, particularly that branch of it relating to the electrical forces of action in the human body, the cause of disease, rationale of cure, &c., and from the principles discovered, claimed to have perfected a system of treatment for the cure of all maladies at all curable, by means of the various combinations of electricity.

THE DOCTOR'S THEORY IS,

That the human system is but a galvanic arrangement, with its acids and alkalies, constituting the positive and negative forces, and that every mental and physical manifestation, either voluntary or involuntary, is the result of this antagonism; that digestion, circulation, secretion and excretion, are wholly attributable to the law of electrical influences; that the nerves are the conductors of Electricity, and that there is a polar action established through the nervous system, which connects with every part of the body, establishing and preserving a proper balance of the electric element, which constitutes health, and a disturbance of which causes disease; that there are strictly but two conditions of disease—the one positive, the other negative; and as Electricity possesses these two inherent principles, it will, if applied according to the electric polarities and requirements of the system, arrest, or, in other words, neutralize the disease by the restoration of proper polar action.

THE DOCTOR FURTHER ASSERTS

That all drugs taken into the system act strictly upon electrical principles; that from decomposition the latent electricity is set free, and that, through the electrical polarities of the nervous system, all changes are produced either for good or for evil; that in the incipient stage of disease it may tend to equalize the forces, and restore harmony; but after the case has become refractory, paralyzing the nervous communications, and changing the constituents of the fluids, and arresting the digestive action of the stomach and its power of approbation, no internal process of medication ever has, or ever can, succeed in removing the cause of the disease, its only tendency being to multiply and complicate the symptoms.

ON THE CONTRARY,

Electricity being the vital element upon which life depends, can be directed to any part of the body, and even after the vital functions seem paralyzed, possesses the power of arousing the dormant energies, equalizing the circulation, and restoring the system to a self-sustaining condition.

THE UNDERSIGNED,

Feeling deeply interested in the subject of electrical science, and especially that branch of it which relates to the cure of disease, as practiced by Dr. CHAMBERLIN, take occasion to affirm, both from our own experience and observation, that we believe it simple and effective, and deserving the attention of the afflicted. We have witnessed the complete restoration to health of many persons who have been long ill, who have enjoyed the benefits of the advice and skill of some of the most eminent medical practitioners of this and other countries, without relief or even hope of relief. In some instances the disease of years' standing has yielded almost at the first touch of the electric element, while in others it has required a more protracted treatment, and, without exception, the most satisfactory results have followed.

ONE VERY IMPORTANT FEATURE

of his treatment is that no time is lost in experimenting with disease. By means of an electrical test an accurate diagnosis is given at once, determining the locality and character of the disease, and indicating the treatment to be pursued.

From what has been suggested, it will be apparent that no mere charlatan in his profession, no student of a day, could be relied upon to apply this mighty agent to the human organism.

WE DESIRE, THEREFORE,

thus publicly to make it known that Dr. CHAMBERLIN has demonstrated to us, in the most satisfactory manner, that his claims are based upon immutable laws, that his treatment is founded upon scientific principles, and we most cordially recommend all who are suffering from physical ills to consult Dr. CHAMBERLIN, under whose supervision they will learn for themselves that what we have affirmed in reference to his system is true and entitled to their grateful recognition.

DEAFNESS
NOISES IN THE HEAD,
Diseases of the Eye, Ear & Throat,
CATARRH CURED
BY
DR. VON EISENBERG.
Author of "Surgical and Practical Observations on the Diseases of the Ear, with his new Mode of Treatment."

NEW TESTIMONY.

"NEW-YORK, May 6.

I was entirely deaf in my left ear, accompanied by a discharge. I placed myself under Dr. VON EISENBERG'S care, who, by his great skill, restored me to perfect hearing, in the short space of a few minutes, without giving me the slightest pain, and the discharge has ceased entirely. The Eustachian Tube, which was obliterated, is quite open, and I feel that the air-passage performs its functions. I am amply satisfied, and recommend every one suffering from impaired hearing to place themselves under the treatment of this eminent and successful physician.

THOMAS GRANAN, No. 539 6th-av."

"NEW-YORK, May 7, 1863.

I have great pleasure to testify to the skill of Dr. VON EISENBERG. I went into his office almost completely deaf, and came out with my perfect hearing. It is nearly twelve months since, and the hearing is perfect. The operation, which lasted two or three minutes in each of my ears, gave me no pain whatsoever. I, with confidence, recommend all sufferers to place themselves under Dr. VON EISENBERG'S unsurpassing skill.

SAMUEL C. HUNT,
No. 6 Meserole-av., Greenpoint, L. I."

WEST HOUSTON-ST., NEW-YORK, Feb. 9, 1863.

I have been completely deaf in one ear, and partially so in the other, for above seventeen years, with a disagreeable discharge from both ears, combined with continual rumbling noise in the head, for which I have been treated by a most eminent practitioner in the City without the slightest relief.

I consulted Dr. Von Eisenberg, but I must candidly say that I had no faith in his success when I did so. It is, therefore, due to Dr. Von Eisenberg to acknowledge that I am entirely cured; also, that he displayed that skill and knowledge which have procured for him such an unrivaled reputation. As I have had an opportunity of comparing his mode of treatment with that of others, I can truly state that it is not only superior, but the principles which direct his mode of restoring the hearing are, in my opinion, certain. JOHN TAYLOR,

NEW-YORK, July 19, 1862.

This certifies that my mother has been for some time afflicted with partial deafness, suffering from pain, and rumbling noises in the head, together with other indications of a total loss of hearing. Dr. Von Eisenberg removed from her ears a great quantity of matter, together with coagulated blood, relieving her instantaneously, and all without pain. It is with grateful thanks that I give this testimony to his skill.

CARROLL J. POST, No. 28 South-st.

No. 188 MERCER-ST., NEW-YORK.

J. E. VON EISENBERG, M. D.—Dear Doctor: I have been afflicted with total deafness, and was induced to pay you a visit. No one can imagine my delight when, after one operation, my hearing was suddenly, and without pain, restored to me, for which I feel very grateful. After being totally deaf—almost shut out from the pleasure of using so necessary a sense—to have it returned, and to hear so distinctly, reflects great credit on you for the immense amount of skill you possess. I beg to thank you for what I can so truly appreciate. I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

EDWARD TEMPLE HARRISON.

CHRONIC CATARRH CURED.
READ
NEW-YORK, March 20, 1863.

"This is to certify, that I have suffered from very severe CHRONIC CATARRH, with a dull heaviness in the head. I felt my nose completely stopped up accompanied by continual soreness of the throat, the chills stealing over me with occasional hot flushes, a great tightness of the chest and pain, so much so, that every one thought it was consumption. Having heard of the great cures performed by Dr. Von Eisenberg, I consulted him with but little hope of a cure. I am now happy to be enabled to add my testimonial to the great number already in the Doctor's possession, as to his scientific and successful mode of treatment, as he has shown in my case that skill and knowledge which have procured for him so great a reputation. I am so entirely restored to perfect health that I do most sincerely recommend all sufferers from CHRONIC CATARRH and SORE THROAT to apply at once to Dr. Von Eisenberg with a certainty of being cured."

NEW TESTIMONIALS

NEW-YORK, April 18, 1863.

A little daughter of mine has been affected with a troublesome discharge from both ears, the result of scarlet fever. Dr. Lighthill, under whose care I placed her, has removed the discharge completely, and improved her hearing. W. H. WAYNOR, No. 6 Pine-st.

From Rev. John Nott, D. D., Professor in Union College, Schenectady.

SCHENECTADY, Jan. 17, 1863.

Dr. Lighthill—

SIR: Having been cured by you of a discharge in an ear, which has been very offensive of late, and as far back as I can remember, always more or less so, and having been entirely restored to hearing since under your care, I feel that I cannot withhold this acknowledgment from any use it may be to others, especially as I have applied in vain to my family physician and other physicians of reputation. Yours, truly, JOHN NOTT.

CATARRH CURED.

From Rev. P. R. Russell, Lynn, Mass.

I have been much troubled with catarrh of the worst type for some twenty years. It gradually grew worse, producing cough and hoarseness, destroying the sense of smell, and breaking down my general health in such a degree as to compel me to resign my pastorate, and suspend public speaking.

I made diligent use of the usual remedies, such as snuffs of different kinds, nitrate of silver, tar water, olive tar and inhalations, but without any very salutary effects. Last Summer I heard of Dr. Lighthill's successful mode of treating catarrh, visited him, and put myself under his treatment. I began immediately to improve, and this improvement has gone on to the present time. My catarrh has gradually melted away, my cough has disappeared, my voice has become natural, and I am once more able to preach the blessed Gospel. Let me advise all troubled with catarrhal difficulties to apply to Dr. Lighthill.

P. R. RUSSELL.

LYNN, Mass., Feb. 1, 1862.

NEW-YORK, June 29, 1863.

Dr. Lighthill:

DEAR SIR: I am pleased to be able to testify to the efficacy of your treatment in the case of my wife, whose h

MEDICAL.

PRIVATE DISEASES CURED IN THE shortest possible time, by DR. WARD & CO., No. 12 Laight-st., near Canal, without the use of Mercury, loss of time or change of diet. Dr. WARD, from the hospitals of London, Paris and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 25 years' practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all others combined. I can and will cure you in less time and expense than any one can or will, and those who have been robbed of their money and health, call; it will take but little money and time to restore you. If you have been unfortunate, call at once. By his special experience in this much-neglected branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhœa or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the most obstinate—eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from Impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks. Permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance, failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to DR. WARD, No. 12 Laight-st., the only place. Call, send or write.

SURE CURE—BY DR. POWERS, SUCCESSfully consulted with Dr. WARD, No. 12 Laight-st. Conducted on the plan of the Hospital des Veneriens, Paris, where those afflicted with any form of private disease can receive prompt treatment, without risk or exposure, viz.: Syphilis, gonorrhœa, gleet, strictures, ulcers, tumors, cancers, secondary and constitutional syphilis, diseases of the kidneys, &c., &c. Thirty years of extensive practice, exclusively devoted to the treatment of those complaints enable us to effect cures in cases where others of less experience have failed. Dr. Powers' Essence of Life restores the vigor of youth in four weeks. This marvelous agent restores manhood to the most shattered constitutions—physical disqualifications, impediments to marriage, thereby speedily cured. The men to consult. Drs. Ward and Powers, the champions and kings of venereal diseases, possessing the most certain, speedy and only effectual remedies in the world, guarantee a perfect cure, or no charge, in from one to three days. Established in 1840. N. B.—Those who have used their Preventives are never without. Send for a circular. To Ladies.—Dr. Powers' Periodical Drops are a safe and certain remedy for monthly irregularities. The above remedies sent by mail. The afflicted should read their circular. Postage free, on receipt of a stamp. Cures warranted.

DRS. TRALL & JACKSON'S "PATHOLogy of the Reproductive Organs."—"This is really a scientific work of great practical value. All other works on the subjects discussed in this volume, that have fallen under our observation, are addressed mainly to a prurient taste, and are positively pernicious."—Chicago Tribune. "This volume is full of scientific information of incalculable benefit in the cure of disease."—New-Bedford Mercury. "It is unquestionably the most complete, the most sensible and the most valuable work of its kind yet published."—The New Yorker. "It offers judicious advice to suffering humanity, which will save thousands from complicating their afflictions by resorting to quack doctors and empirical treatment."—Boston Journal. "It is the only work in existence containing directions which will positively cure that distressing disease termed spermatorhœa, and other sexual diseases which cause so much misery to the human family."—Boston Express.
Price $1. Sold in New-York by FOWLER & WELLS, No. 308 Broadway.

DR. COBBETT, MEMBER OF THE N. Y. University, (Medical College,) and Royal College of Surgeons, London, has removed from No. 19 Duane-st. to his present very convenient suite of offices at No. 22 Centre-st., between Chambers and Reade sts., with a private entrance at No. 6 City Hall-place, where he can be consulted with the most honorable confidence on all diseases affecting the urinary organs; thirty years in his present specialty, (three of which have been at the Hospitals of this City,) enable him to guarantee a cure in every case undertaken, or make no charge. Strictures of the urethra, impotency, seminal weaknesses, &c., treated on the most scientific principles. N. B.—As a proof of Dr. C.'s qualifications, he would call special attention to his Diplomas, which can be seen in his office.

DR. COOPER, NO. 14 DUANE-ST., MAY BE confidently consulted on all diseases of a private nature. A practice of 30 years, devoted to the treatment and cure of Syphilitic, Mercurial and diseases of a delicate nature, enables Dr. C. to make speedy and permanent cures, no matter of how long standing the case may be. Strictures of the urethra and seminal weakness, brought on by a secret habit, effectually cured. The victims of misplaced confidence, who have been misled by quack advertisements, can call on Dr. C. with the certainty of being practically cured. Dr. C. is a qualified physician and surgeon, and a member of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New-York. Office hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

THE VIGOR OF YOUTH IS RESTORED in three days by Dr. POWERS' ESSENCE OF LIFE. This wonderful agent restores manhood to the most shattered constitution, radically curing Seminal Weakness, Sexual Debility, and impediments to marriage generally; Nervousness, Mental and Physical Incapacity, resulting from self-abuse, &c. The time required to cure the most inveterate case is one week. Failure is impossible. This life-restorative remedy should be taken by all about to marry, as its effects are permanent. Young man, are you subject to that soul and body destroying disease, secret habits? Dr. POWERS' Invigorating Essence is a never-failing cure. Sold by WALTER POWERS, M. D., No. 12 Laight-st., New-York.

IMPORTANT TO THE MARRIED AND THOSE ABOUT TO BE MARRIED.—Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Professor of Diseases of Women, has just published the 160th edition of the valuable book, entitled "THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANION," (secretly intended for those whose health or circumstances forbid a too rapid increase of family. Price $1. Sold at his office, No. 129 Liberty-st., New-York; or can be sent by mail, free of postage to any part of the United States and Canada, by inclosing $1, and addressing Box No. 1,224 New-York City. For sale by H. RICHARDSON, at No. 1 Vesey-st., (Astor House,) and No. 18 Ann-st.; FEDERHEN & CO., 13 Court-st., Boston.

DR. WARD'S MAGICAL INVIGORATORS, IN the form of Pills, will, in fifteen minutes after being taken, make the recipient as vigorous as if nature had never been retarded or debilitated. To the married or single, in every physical exigency, this unrivaled medicine is earnestly recommended as a complete restorative of the nervous system where manhood has been impaired. Procured of Dr. WARD, No. 12 Laight-st., near Canal. Call or send for circulars.

DR POWERS' PERIODICAL DROPS are designed for both married and single ladies, and are the very best thing known for the purpose, as they will bring on the monthly sickness in cases of obstruction from any cause, and after all other remedies of the kind have been tried in vain. Expressly for obstinate cases; warranted as represented in every respect, or the price will be refunded. ☞ Beware of imitations! Purchase directly of Dr. POWERS, No. 12 Laight-st., New-York.

SOMETHING FOR EVERY LADY.—DR. WARD'S Great Female Benefactor or Golden Regulating Pills. Infallible in correcting, regulating and removing all obstructions, from whatever cause, and they will never disappoint the anxious patient. Office, No. 12 Laight-st., where Dr. WARD can be consulted, confidentially, day and evening.

ADVICE TO LADIES.—IN ALL CASES where infallible medicines are desired, or mode of treatment that never fails, call upon Dr. A. M. MAURICEAU, Professor of Diseases of Women, author of "The Married Woman's Private Medical Companion," who treats female complaints exclusively. Office No. 129 Liberty-st.

SULPHUR AND VAPOR BATHS—ESTABlished in 1820.—The only genuine baths in the United States, at No. 1 Carroll-place, Bleecker-st., corner of Laurens, for cure of rheumatism, mercurial affections, &c. Given daily by Dr. A. L. TIMOLAT & CO.

PRIVATE CONSULTATION.—DR. HUNTER has, for thirty years, confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has treated no less than fifty thousand cases, without an instance of failure. His great remedy, HUNTER'S RED DROP, cures certain diseases, when regular treatment and all other remedies fail; cures without dieting or restriction in the habits of the patient; cures without the disgusting and sickening effects of all other remedies; cures in new cases in less than six hours; cures without the dreadful consequent effects of mercury, but possesses the peculiarly valuable property of annihilating the rank and poisonous taint that the blood is sure to absorb, unless his remedy is used. That is what he claims for it, and what no other will accomplish. Its value in this respect has become so well known, that scientific men in every department of medical knowledge begin to appreciate it, for hardly a week passes that he is not consulted by druggists, chemists and physicians, in regard to some pitiful patient who has exhausted the whole field of the faculty, and still the disease will appear. Its popularity is so great, that there is not a quack doctor in the City that has not attacked it, and when they find their lies are not so easily swallowed, they then pretend that they can make it. If its $1 a vial, and cannot be obtained genuine anywhere but at the old office, No. 3 Division-st. Book for 15 three-cent stamps, 300 pages, 100 colored illustrations. The best work out.

MARBLE MANTELS.—THE BEST PLACE IN the city where the cheapest marble mantels, &c., can be bought, is at A. KLABER'S marble yard, No. 109 East 18th-st., near 3d-av., New-York. (Cut this out.)

FRIENDS OF FREEDOM.—THE LARGE PHOtograph of 50 representative men, which forms a beautiful picture, can be seen at No. 102 Liberty-st., near Broadway. Ladies especially invited. G. W. ROSE.

ISSUE COMMERCIAL AND TRAVELERS' CREDITS FOR USE IN THE COUNTRY AND ABROAD.

NOTICE AS TO THE $3,000,000 SEVEN PER CENT. BONDS OF THE COMPANY, DUE 15TH JUNE, 1864.—The Directors of this Company propose to replace its Seven per Cent. Bonds, to become due on the 15th of June, 1864, by an issue, having 25 years to run, of five per cent. Coupon Bonds, to mature on the 15th of December, 1887, with interest from the 15th of December last, payable in New-York semi-annually, on the 15th of June and 15th December.

An allowance of three per cent. for the difference in interest between the three Coupons yet to mature on the outstanding Bonds and those of corresponding dates on the proposed issue, will be made to the holders of the former, on the surrender of the Bonds held by them to be exchanged for the new Bonds.

This surrender may be made at any time hereafter, accompanied by a memorandum of numbers and amounts, at the BANK OF COMMERCE, in New-York; at the office of J. E. THAYER & BROTHER, Boston, or at this office, when the three per cent. above mentioned will be paid in cash.

The delivery of the new Bonds will commence, at the same places, on the twentieth day of March instant.

The option of the new Bonds now offered to the holders of those of 1854, will remain open until, and including, the thirtieth day of April next, unless withdrawn, before that time, by at least ten days' previous public notice.

The Bonds will be of the denomination of $1,000 only; except that Registered Bonds, without Coupons, of the denomination of $5,000, will be issued to parties applying for them.

A Sinking Fund of two per cent. per annum on the whole amount of the issue will be applied to its reduction or to providing means toward its payment, in such manner and under such regulations as the Directors may from time to time prescribe.

NEWS FROM EUROPE.

tesy extended to me in the communication of the substance of a report which has been made to her Majesty's Government, with regard to the number of persons who are now being shipped as emigrants from Queenstown. The fact that a great many people, especially in Ireland, have been anxious for some time past to find their way to the United States has been made known to me by the frequent applications to this location for free passage. A considerable proportion of these contain offers to enlist in the service of the Government. No doubt they are more or less influenced by the high bounties offered in America, accounts of which have been from time to time published in the newspapers here. To all such solicitations the answer from here has been uniformly to the effect that no authority has been given by the Government to listen to any proposals of the kind or to make any engagements whatever. Instructions have likewise been sent to the respective Consuls who have reported similar proposals to me, to make the same answer. I have no reason to believe that any American citizen in England, clothed with authority, has ventured to act in any other way. It is proper for me to add, in explanation of the emigrant on that is taking place, that a gentleman of influence in America, now in London, who is in a situation to know, has lately informed me that some of the great corporations for the extension of railways in the Western part of the United States, having experienced inconvenience from the liability of the laborers in their employ to be drafted for the war, and apprehending more, are making efforts to procure large supplies from other countries of aliens, who are from that circumstance exempted from the risk of being called into service. It may be that some of those who desire to get across the ocean, for the purpose of enlisting, expect to take advantage of the opportunity thus placed before them. In addition to this, there is no doubt of the fact of a scarcity of laborers in the United States. I learn from private sources that the rate of wages this season is very much advanced. I am led to believe that these causes, in addition to the alleged distress of the population of Ireland, may explain the phenomena of emigration to which your lordship has been pleased to draw my attention.—I pray, &c.,

[Signed] CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS.

The Freeman's Journal, Dublin, of April 30, says:

"An official correspondence is published between Earl RUSSELL and Mr. ADAMS. In his last letter, dated April 20, his lordship asks Mr. ADAMS, before he repeats his own complaints, to furnish him with proofs that all British subjects serving in the Federal army and navy have their discharge, and that orders have been given not to enlist such persons in future in contravention of the Queen's proclamation."

Minister Adams and Matamoras Trade.

RESTORATION OF THE ENTENTE CORDIALE WITH EARL RUSSELL.

From the Times (City article) April 28.

The public will be glad to learn that the difficulties occasioned by the recent issue by Mr. ADAMS of the certificate or pass to Messrs. HOWELL & ZIRMAN are likely to be smoothed down. It is reported that Mr. ADAMS is conscious of having acted in the matter upon imperfect representations and with undue haste, and that consequently he raises no pretensions such as would necessitate any absolute protest from one Government to the other on the subject. It is, therefore, believed that the relations between our Cabinet and the United States Legation in London will continue on a friendly footing, a result, which, in a personal sense, will afford unmixed satisfaction, since the individual and historical claims of Mr. ADAMS to respect and esteem have never been disputed in any quarter.

From the Star, April 28.

We have it on the best authority that whatever difficulties might have been expected to result from the recent issuing of a letter of safe conduct by Mr. ADAMS, the United States Minister here, to a British ship bound for Matamoras will be avoided. No unpleasantness now exists on the subject in the relations between Mr. ADAMS and our Government, such frank explanations having been given by the United States Minister as have reestablished those friendly feelings which have always existed between himself and Earl RUSSELL.

THE MATTER IN FRANCE.

Correspondence of the London Times.

PARIS, Tuesday, April 28, 7 A. M.

The proceedings of the United States Minister in London in the matter of the safe-conduct granted to Messrs. HOWELL & ZIRMAN, and his describing their ships as employed for a "creditable purpose," when she was laden with arms and munitions of war for the Mexicans, have given much offence here. People who by no means approved the Mexican war consider that such a description of a ship containing supplies for a Government which is engaged in hostilities with France, given by the representative of a friendly Power, is downright offensive, though Mr. ADAMS may not have meant it. Instructions have been sent to M. Mercier to ask for explanations on the subject from Mr. Seward, though I have heard nothing to justify the rumor that Mr. Adams is to be recalled. What may happen in case explanations are flatly refused I cannot say; but up to the present date nothing about "recall" has, I am pretty sure, passed between the French Minister for Foreign Affairs and the American Minister in Paris. It is not anticipated that the Washington Government will refuse to give these explanations.

The Confederate Loan.

From the London Herald, April 27.

Much less speculative excitement was apparent in the Confederate Cotton loan. The account having been in a great degree adjusted, a partial pause in business was noticeable. The quotation varied from 1⅛ to 1¾ premium, and, on the whole, firmness was the feature. The last price was made by some of the dealers 1 to ⅝, and by others 1¾ to ¾; a thousand or two of stock would have carried the market in either direction.

From the London Herald, April 28.

The market for the Confederate Cotton Loan was rather stronger, and there were good buyers at 1¾@2 premium. The probable early recognition of the South by the Emperor of the French was rumored, and some large purchases were made in consequence. At the end of the afternoon the official closing price was 1¾@2⅛ premium, but subsequently another advance was gained, the quotation standing 2@2⅛ premium.

From the London Herald, April 29.

The scrip of the Confederate Cotton Loan was favorably influenced in the morning by the accounts from America, and the quotation went to 2 to 2⅛ premium. The prices from Liverpool later were scarcely so good, and the figure then standing 1⅞ premium, the last price here was about 1⅞@1⅝ premium. The business now appears to be of a more bona fide character, the speculators refraining from active operations. Some heavy transactions for the Fall have yet to be terminated, and they will hereafter exert an influence upon prices.

A Federal Loan.

From the London Herald, April 28.

We understand that Mr. WALKER, a confidential agent of Mr. CHASE, has arrived in this country from Washington with full powers to negotiate a loan for £50,000,000 on behalf of the Federal Government. The stock is to bear 7 per cent. interest, payable half-yearly in sterling in London. Possibly, as a further inducement and security to British capitalists, the confiscated cotton plantations and other property of the Southern rebels may be hypothecated to the loan contractors. Mr. WALKER has proceeded to Manchester, where his proposals are more likely to be entertained than in Lombard-street.

Mr. Adams' Instructions.

The Times City Article of the 30th ult. says, that notwithstanding the additional reports from New-York to-day of violent instructions from Mr. SEWARD to Mr. ADAMS, it is believed here that nothing of the kind is to be presented to our Government. The reports were, probably, encouraged solely with a view to mitigate the difficulties of the approaching conscription on the 1st of May. With the present feeling of the British public, which recently found expression in Parliament, it would be highly dangerous for the Washington Government to place matters in a position such as might render a continued forbearance impossible on the part of the Cabinet.

Significant Naval Movement.

There had been a rumor at Portsmouth that the iron-clad squadron at present in commission, was about to be dispatched to Bermuda to strengthen the squadron under Vice-Admiral MILNE.

The Times' naval correspondent says there appears, however, to be several reasons why this course should not be adopted. He adds that orders had been received at Devonport to put into commission the screw steam frigate Liverpool, 29, now in the first-class steam reserve, fully rigged, and further orders were expected for putting into commission other ships of inferior rating. The destination of these ships, however, is not stated.

FURTHER BY THE BOHEMIAN.

Aspect of the Polish Question.

The following is the portion of the Bohemian's news which failed to reach us on Monday night, owing to trouble on the telegraph wires at the eastward:

A Berlin letter says that Russia's proposal for an offensive and defensive alliance has been repeated to the Government of Prussia more pressingly. The King of Prussia hesitates, but the Reactionary party highly favor the design.

Le Nord formally announces that the relations between the Cabinets of Stockholm and St. Petersburgh are most satisfactory.

An important engagement took place on the 25th of April, between the Russians and the Poles, near Wark, south of Warsaw. The Russians were defeated, with great loss.

LANGIEWICZ has been conveyed by the Austrians from Tischnowitz to a Bohemian fortress on Joseph's Stadt.

The South American mail had arrived at Lisbon with Rio dates of the 18th of April. Coffee was selling at 6,900 to 7,000 for good firsts. The stock was 90,000 bags. Exchange was at 27⅛@27½.

At Pernambuco Sugar was selling at 3,500 to 4,600 for White. Brown was quoted at 1,600 and 3,000 to 1,700.

At Bahia Sugar was selling at 1,600 to 1,800.

The bids for the Turkish loan in England and France had reached five millions sterling.

IMPORTANT FROM MEXICO.

The French Not yet in Possession of Puebla.

The Mexicans Confident of Success.

CAPTURE OF FRENCH ZOUAVES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Monday, May 11.

Dates from the City of Mexico to the 16th, and from Puebla to the 14th of April, are received.

The French had gained nothing at Puebla since the 6th of April, and were occupying only six blocks of the city and the Castle of San Javier.

On the 12th of April Gen. ORTEGA wrote that the condition of the City of Puebla was unchanged, and expressed the greatest confidence that the French could not take and hold it.

The French were bombarding the Convents of San Augustine, "Dorfer" and Merced.

An attempt to capture these three Convents from the Mexicans by an assault failed, the Mexicans capturing a considerable number of prisoners from a Zouave regiment.

The Mexican guerrillas continued to annoy the French supply trains.

Large Mexican forces were concentrating at the City of Mexico, and were held in readiness for any movement.

Gen. COMONFORT held the road from the City of Mexico to Puebla.

French deserters had informed the Mexican military commanders that many French officers considered the taking of Puebla impossible, with their present force, as all the houses in the city proved to be fortified castles.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, May 12.

STONEWALL JACKSON'S DEATH.

A telegram from Fort Monroe, 17th, contains a statement, based on what is claimed good authority, that JACKSON is not expected to live. He was accidentally shot by his own men. While another, dated Headquarters army of the Potomac, appears in the Star, saying the Richmond papers of yesterday contain obituary notices of JACKSON, who died Sunday afternoon.

DECISIONS.

The Secretary of the Treasury has made the following decisions of questions arising upon appeals by importers from the decisions of Collectors, relating to the proper classification under the Tariff Act of July 14, 1862. The article called "half gold," is not especially provided for by name in any of the existing tariffs. It is a combination of gold and silver leaf, and is used for similar purposes and as a substitute for gold leaf, and therefore is liable to a duty under the 20th section of the act of Aug. 30, 1842, the same as gold leaf, that being the enumerated article it most nearly resembles in material, quality and texture, or the use to which it may be applied.

Certain slipper patterns, being of the size and shape, and texture and color, precisely adapted for slippers, and can be used for no other purpose, advantageously, should be admitted at 10 per centum, as claimed by the importers. In a case of goods ordered, &c., previous to the act of July last taking effect, the appellant did not allege that the duty was erroneously or illegally exacted; but simply complained of the want of equity and oppressiveness of that law. As the Department has no authority to question the policy of any act of Congress, the appeal was dismissed, and in another case the Secretary decided that as by that act all goods on shipboard on the 1st day of August, 1862, shall be subject to duties therein prescribed. There is no exemption of goods ordered purchased or shipped prior to its passage.

NAVAL.

Acting Assistant Surgeons P. TREADWELL and E. L. R. DRAPER have been ordered to the Mississippi squadron.

Lieut.-Commander MILTON HAXTON has been ordered to the receiving ship Ohio.

Lieut. GEORGE R. GRAY has been detached from the Ohio, and ordered to the receiving ship Princeton.

COLORED VOLUNTEERS.

Public notice is given to the officers and men of the proposed regiment of District of Columbia (colored) volunteers, to assemble to-morrow for the purpose of inspection, and being mustered into service.

INDIAN TROOPS.

The Republican says:—

"Com. DOLE, with Cols. TURNER and RAYMOND and other friends of the Moremeut visited the President to-day, to present the rolls and tender the services of about 800 men, already enlisted, and to ask for quarters, &c. They were gladly received, and the President at once referred them to the Secretary of War, with a request that he "do the very best for them he could." Secretary STANTON has given orders that when 640 men, who will pass inspection, are presented, they will be mustered in at once, and assigned to quarters.

Col. Straight's Raid into Georgia.

The Murfreesboro correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, quoting the Chattanooga Rebel's account of the capture of Col. STRAIGHT'S command in Georgia, adds to it the following important intelligence:

Thus ends the rebel account of this to-be-famous expedition. Col. STRAIGHT and ten men were indeed captured; but rebel troubles in Alabama and Georgia are not yet over, for the same paper has the following:

"ALARMING NEWS!

The express messengers and others from Rome, Ga., last evening, report another raid into North Alabama and Georgia by Yankees 3,500 strong. The Fiftieth Georgia regiment, returning to Bridgeport, was stopped and ordered back to Rome, mounted on captured horses, and led to meet the invaders. It was believed the Yankees were at Talladega, Ala., eighty miles south of Rome. Capt. FORREST, brother of the General, was mortally wounded in the fight near Rome."

The rebels say our forces burned every grain of corn they could find between Courtland and Tuscumbia, and destroyed all the provisions. They also burned the Military College at Lagrange. The Union troops have evacuated Tuscumbia.

Musical.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—One of the most successful productions of Mr. MAEETZEK'S management, PETRELLA'S opera of "Ione," will be revived here to-night, Signor MAZZOLENI sustaining his original and grand rôle of Glaucus, Signor BIACHI as Burbo—the last named rôle having been written for the basso. Mlle. CUERRADELLA interprets for the first time the music of the heroine, and Mlle. SULZER is, as heretofore, the Nidia of the occasion. The magnificent way in which the opera has been put upon the stage, added to its musical attractiveness, will, we hope, draw an overflowing audience.

TERRIBLE GUNPOWDER EXPLOSION.

A Magazine Blown up in the Upper Part of the City.

Great Loss of Property---Several Persons Seriously Injured.

Windows Destroyed the Distance of Six Miles from the Scene.

One of the most terrific gunpowder explosions which ever took place in this City, occurred at a late hour on Monday night, at the foot of Seventy-eighth-street, East River. The report was heard in every part of the country for the distance of fifty miles. The damage to the property is very great, and the wonder is, that no lives were lost by the catastrophe. The particulars of the occurrence are as follows: For about eighteen months past there has been a cartridge manufactory and a powder magazine located at the foot of Seventy-eighth-street, East River. The proprietors, Messrs. JOHNSTON & DOW, have had contracts with the United States Government for the manufacture and delivery of cartridges. During the last year and a half, they have had on an average 300 persons in their employ. There were two buildings devoted to the business—one of them between Seventy-eighth and Seventy-ninth streets, and the other a short distance below the foot of Seventy-eighth-street, East River. No accident of any kind had occurred during all this year and a half, until that on Monday night, Mr. DRAKE, the foreman for JOHNSTON & DOW, informed our reporter that the strictest watch had been kept upon the premises, and that the utmost care had been taken to prevent an explosion, or to avoid accidents of any kind. He further stated that at about 11½ o'clock on Monday night, he was aroused from his slumbers by the explosion.

The magazine where the powder was stored, and where the explosion took took place, was situated between Seventy-eighth and Seventy-seventh streets, and close to the river, immediately opposite Randall's Island. It was a low, brick structure, about sixteen feet square, and about eight feet above the surface. Mr. DRAKE, the foreman, states that they usually kept about ten barrels of gunpowder in this magazine, and that no other combustible material was, or had been at any time stored stored there. He further states that they had three months past employed about three hundred persons in the two buildings, in the manufacture of cartridges, &c.

The effect of the explosion was terrific, and shook the houses of persons living fifteen miles away from the scene of the disaster. At Flushing, six miles distant, windows were broken, and many persons were aroused from their slumbers by the motion of the furniture in their rooms. The same effect is reported by persons residing in Manhasset, Long Island, a distance of twelve miles further. At Newtown the doors of many of the inhabitants were thrown open by the force of the explosion, and the inmates started from their beds in alarm, under the belief that an earthquake had visited them. The public buildings on the Island, (less than half a mile from the scene of the explosion,) and directly opposite, were very much damaged. Window glass and gas fixtures were demolished, and furniture broken by the force of the concussion. In the immediate vicinity, on the New-York side, the damage was also considerable. Mr. SETH C. REESE, residing at the foot of Seventy-sixth-street, was thrown from his bed against the side of the wall, and very much bruised. His housekeeper was also severely injured in the same manner. The windows and doors of his residence were all stove in, the ceilings shattered and his furniture became almost a wreck. He estimates his damage at about $5,000. Mr. SAMUEL LAWRENCE, residing in Seventy-fifth-street, had his house completely demolished by the force of the explosion; his loss is about $3,000. Mr. WHITE, a florist in the vicinity, suffered severely. His house was almost rent to fragments, and his fine garden, including green-houses, hot-beds, &c., was much damaged,—more than one-half of the glass in his garden was broken. He estimates his damage at $3,000. Mr. HASTEY, at the foot of Seventy-fourth street, lost about $2,000 worth of property. Mr. SOMERS, proprietor of Jones' Woods Hotel, had the whole of one side of his billiard saloon staved in, and his windows and doors broken. His loss will amount to about $1,000. The following-named persons also sustained heavy losses: FREDERICK ROBERTSON, Bellevue Garden; Mr. UNDERHILL, VINCENT GESLER, ANDREW MATHEWS, Mrs. EUNICE PIKE and JOHN CADY.

Grammar School No. 5, situated on the corner of Third-avenue and Seventy-ninth street, about ten blocks from the scene of the explosion, was so much damaged as to render it unfit to be occupied for school purposes until repaired. Our reporter was informed that a child which was sleeping in its cradle in a house in Third-avenue, near Eighty-third-street, was thrown by the force of the explosion against the ceiling, and so much injured that its life is despaired of. For miles and miles in every direction we hear reports of the effects of this terrible explosion. In New-Haven the inhabitants believed it to be an earthquake; the windows of many of the houses of that city were shaken, and a very perceptible tremor was felt throughout the town.

The Police report that there were only 2,600 pounds of gunpowder stored in the magazine at the time of the explosion. The foreman of the establishment also states that nothing but gunpowder in barrels, (only ten of which were then on store) was allowed to be put there.

His idea is, that the magazine was fired by some malicious person. An investigation of the affair will be had to-day, when it is supposed that there will be some light thrown upon the cause of the explosion.

THE GREAT EXPLOSION.

The 11 o'clock night boat to New-Haven was just abreast of the magazine at the foot of Seventy-ninth-street, East River, last night, at the time of the explosion. Fortunately, however, Blackwell's Island was between her and the Magazine, she having gone up on the east side of the Island. As it was, almost every pane of glass in her saloon and staterooms on her port side was broken, and often the sash itself wrenched and twisted out. Some of her heavier joiner-work was also somewhat sprung. Some of her marble mantels were thrown down by the concussion and broken, together with more or less crockery, &c. There was considerable alarm and fright among her passengers, some of whom were thrown down, but no one was seriously injured.

The Remains of Col. Ringgold.

The remains of Col. BENJAMIN RINGGOLD, late of the One Hundred and Third New-York Volunteer regiment, lie in state in the Governor's Room at the City Hall. Yesterday, a large number of people visited the apartment to take a farewell look of the body. The coffin is of rosewood, and bears a silver plate with the following inscription:

"COL. BENJAMIN RINGGOLD,
103d N. Y. Vols.,
KILLED IN ACTION, BEFORE SUFFOLK, VA.,
May 3, 1863.
Aged 36 years."

The coffin is dressed with the American colors, and upon the lid rest the sword, belt and cap of the deceased. Guard duty is performed by a detachment of the Hawkins' Zouaves. Throughout the day, the flags on the City Hall and other buildings were displayed at half-mast. The funeral ceremonies will be solemnized to-day, the Committee on National Affairs of the Common Council having made suitable arrangements for the occasion. The procession will leave the City Hall at 1 P. M., and proceed up Chatham-street and the Bowery, to and through Eighth-street to Broadway, down Broadway to South Ferry, thence to Greenwood, the place of interment.

The Returning Volunteers,

RECEPTION OF THE FIRST NEW-YORK VOLUNTEER REGIMENT.

Yesterday, the First New-York Volunteer Regiment, Col. J. FRED. PIERSON, which arrived in this City last Sunday, were publicly received by the municipal authorities. In accordance with the arrangements previously agreed upon, the entire Seventh Regiment National Guard, assembled at their armory at 3 o'clock P. M., and having formed in line, marched down Broadway to the Astor House, where they were drawn up in line on the west side of the street, to await the arrival of the First regiment. At 5 o'clock that regiment marched down Broadway, and halted at the lower end of the City Hall Park. The column was then formed, and, headed by a platoon of policemen and a band, marched round to the east gate of the Park, which it entered and passed in review, the Mayor and members of the Common Council. The line then marched up Broadway to Fourteenth-street, down Fourteenth-street to Fifth-avenue, and up to Seventeenth-street, down Fourth-avenue to the Seventh regiment armory, when the regiment was dismissed.

A salute was fired from a battery stationed near the Park Barracks. The appearance on the streets of so large a military column attracted large crowds, and when the tattered remnants of the flags borne by the First were observed, the people passed the word from lip to lip that these poor fellows had indeed seen hard service.

In the evening the City authorities entertained the First Regiment with a banquet at the Seventh regiment armory, Tompkins Market. Toasts were offered, speeches made, and a good time had generally.

Arrivals in the City.

A Card.

DRS. R. & J. HUNTER, PHYSICIANS for AFFECTIONS of the THROAT and LUNGS.

Office No. 832 Broadway. Hours of consultation 9 A. M. to 5 P. M.

Drs. R. & J. HUNTER devote their whole attention to the treatment of Affections or Diseases of the Throat, Lungs and Heart. In applying their undivided efforts to this important specialty in medicine, they have been stimulated to act not only by the calm indifference with which the general practitioners regarded the terrible mortality and suffering attending Throat and Lung Diseases, but also by the remarkable successes which followed the direct and local treatment so largely advocated and practiced by Drs. HUNTER years since.

It is but just to remind the people of New-York, that during those years when the practice of Drs. HUNTER was so great as to break down their own health by the close office confinement incident thereto, the mortality from Consumption, as shown by the City Inspector's books, diminished upward of thirty per cent! Such facts as these defy cavil.

In reestablishing the practice again in New-York, Drs. HUNTER are happy to be able to refer to many prominent citizens who retain the benefits they derived years ago from the direct treatment of their cases—in Catarrh—Bronchitis—Consumption—Asthma, &c., by Inhalations and such other means as were prescribed for them on the principle of direct and local treatment. Many others of more recent experience can add their testimony in favor of the treatment. Drs. HUNTER think it right to direct attention to these facts as encouragement for those who may feel disposed to consult them—and whose condition of health requires their services.
